HOOVER HIGH

N. CANTON, OHIO

There are golden apples to be picked and green hills to climb and meadows to run when you're young.

There are roaring rivers to be crossed and bridges to build and wild oats to sow as you grow.

from Listen to the Warm by Rod McKuen

The message the author is trying to portray is the challenge of youth. An ideal time to live, love, and become individuals in our own right is when we are young. It is what we accomplish as youth which decides our degree of success or failure.

To the freshman youth means getting stepped upon and learning by being the scapegoat. It means gaining a foothold on the upward trek.

To the sophomore it means falling into an established pattern, learning by mistakes, and finding within himself a desire for comradeship.

To the junior it means frustrations, dealings in matters which before seemed impossible, and little, fond remembrances.

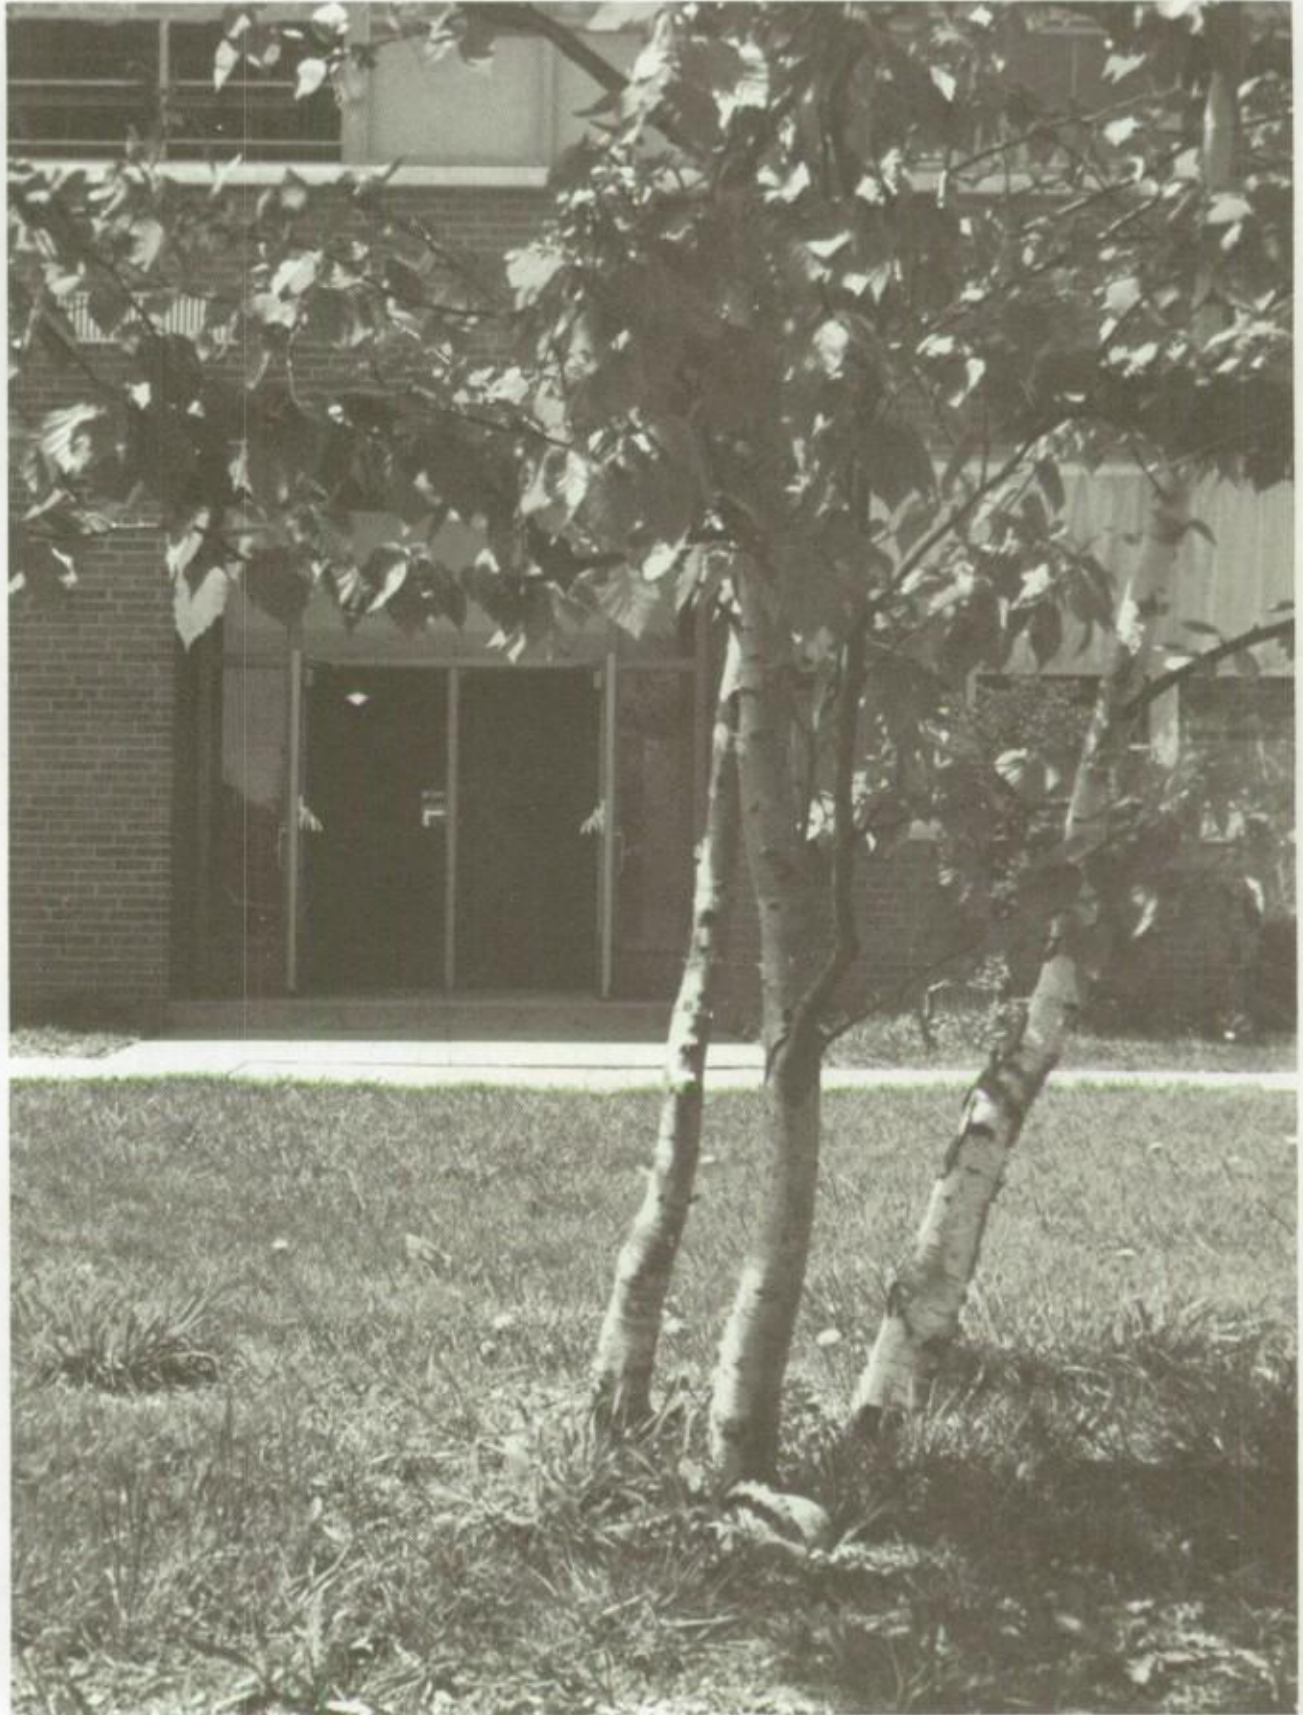

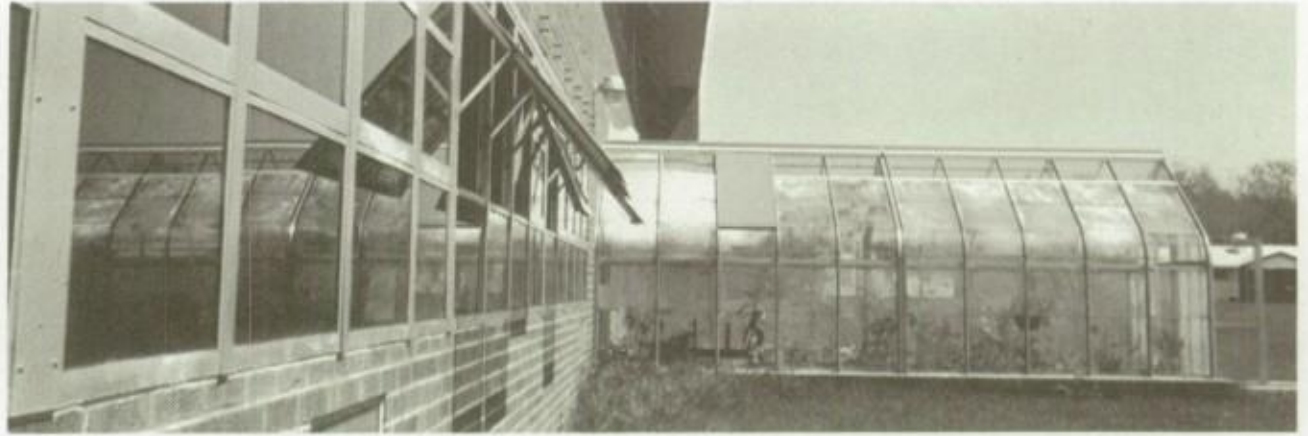

To the senior it is a turning point . . . From here he forges ahead and greets the amiabilities and overcomes the uncertainties which lie on the path to the future.

As the Superintendent of the North Canton School system, Mr. E. R. Malone performs a variety of important duties and oversees many of the activities taking place at Hoover High. Some of his numerous tasks include planning curriculum and hiring personnel. In outlining his daily schedule, he works closely with his administrators and the Board of Education. He is capably assisted in his efforts by Mrs. Pearl Brown, secretary to the Superintendent.

Following many years as the principal of Hoover High School, Mr. H. Wayne Russell became the Assistant Superintendent of schools. His days are now filled with tasks such as reviewing texts and planning secondary school curriculum.

The Board of Education consists of: Mr. Yale S. Strausser, Mr. A. Wayne Deibel, Dr. James F. Yonally, Dr. Richard C. Werstler, vice president, and Mr. Richard E. Davis, president.

Board Rules School

Supporting, aiding, and supervising the growing North Canton school district is the Board of Education, made up of five active members. The tasks and responsibilities of these busy members are numerous and varied. They determine the salaries of the personnel employed within the school system. Also related to this area, they approve the appointments made to the posts in this district. The members are also responsible for setting the standards of the students. In addition, the building programs in the North Canton district are overseen by the Board. This hard-working staff continually meets the many challenges set for them by an expanding, progressive community.

The clerk-treasurer of the Board, Mr. Robert Braucher, serves the schools and the community in several vital areas. Just two of his many duties are organizing the student transportation, and overseeing maintenance. The secretary and bookkeeper, Mrs. Valerie Tucker, keeps the records and assists the Board in many other ways.

Mr. Armstrong Influences Growth Of Students

Mr. Richard Armstrong has shown his capabilities as principal last year and again this year by governing the school wisely. His day varies from scheduling classes to supervising the faculty and seeing that things run smoothly for teachers and pupils. Working closely with Mr. Armstrong is Mrs. Pauline Kolp, Hoover High secretary, who performs an invaluable service to all. She schedules the sports events and takes care of the ticket sales.

Keeping Hoover High in tip-top shape this year are Arnold Willaman, Lowell Kreiner, Robert Carlson, Burdette Johns, and James Williams.

Special Contributions By Custodians, Drivers, Cooks Make Student Activities Easier

Conveying the students to North Canton Hoover are Iona Allen, LaVaughn Foster, Pearl Levengood, Victor Horning, Alden Warfield, Jane Hirschman, and Helen Rudersmith.

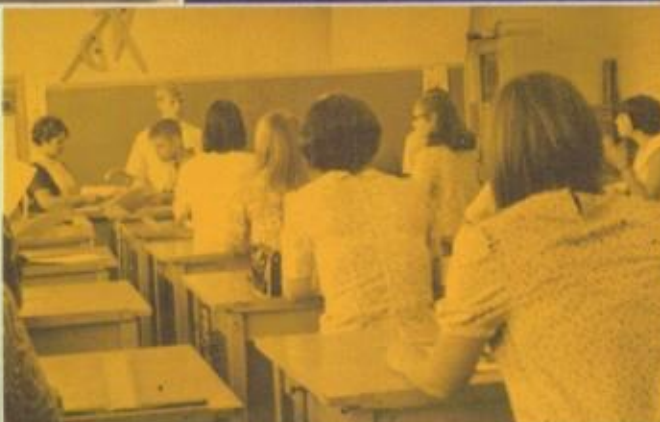

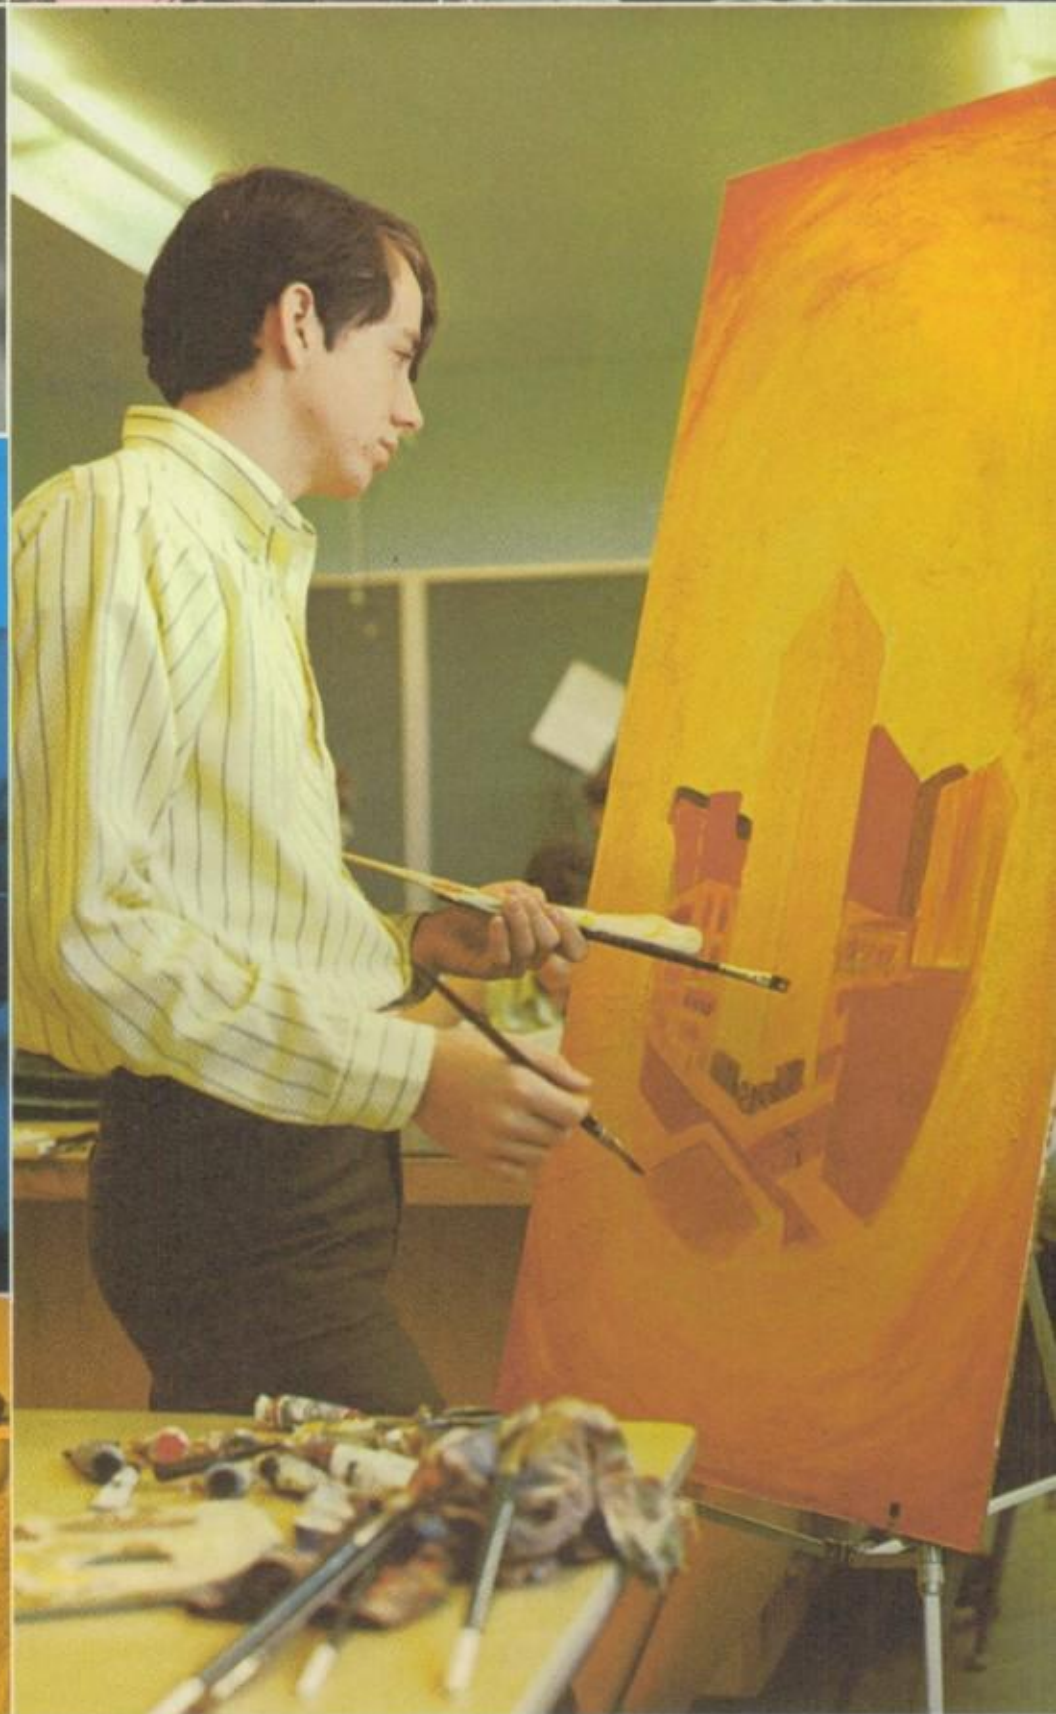

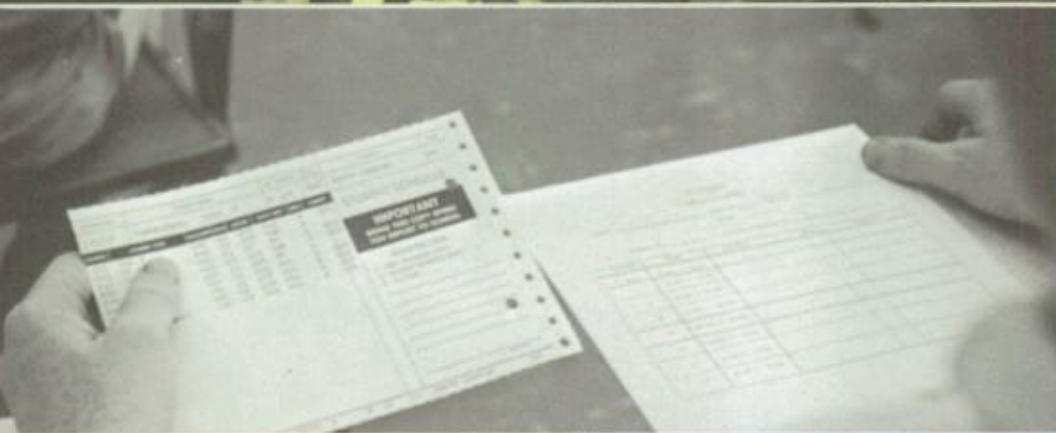

The ladies who prepare our daily lunches are Verna Keubel, Lucille Southworth, Audrey Hartman, Gene Keiner, Norma Montandon, Barbara Willour, June Reed, Irene Allen, Amida Weikle, and Grace Robinson.

The hard-working cooks of North Canton Hoover High School who prepare the daily repast this year are Lucy Martz, June Fisher, Dorothy Randall, Ann Brown, Betty Willaman, Dorothy Ditch, and Janet Smith.

The cheerful, busy ladies who staff the Hoover High School cafeteria help to make the lunch period one of the most popular times of the school day. They begin their work early in the morning to prepare the nutritious, delicious lunches served to the eager students each day. Working quickly and efficiently, they cook many tasty dishes in the modern, immaculate kitchens. By the time fourth period arrives, they await the rush of hungry teachers and students with heaping pans of attractive, nourishing foods. After school hours, they often help to prepare the food that is served at the many banquets which are held in the Hoover High cafeteria.

Thanks to the hard-working kitchen personnel, the lunches at Hoover are always the best, both in flavor and health value. Especially popular with the students are their delicious meals cooked during the holiday seasons.

CLASSES

Class of '69 Completes Eventful Four Years

As the class of 1969 entered Hoover for the last time, there was anticipation. We are eager to enter into our new worlds after graduation, but we are somewhat apprehensive about leaving behind our high school years.

As freshmen we had to tackle the task of proving our potential. In the past four years we have matured and developed our minds and personalities in many ways. Our scholars, musicians, and athletes have proven their abilities, and have been rewarded for their accomplishments.

We certainly owe much of our success to the guidance and encouragement of our teachers. We are grateful for the help that they have given to us, even though we often did not realize it. Truly we are proud to say that we were a part of the activities and accomplishments of Hoover High School.

Officers leading the Senior Class in 1968-1969 are Vice President Pat Dickerson, Treasurer Vince Sturiale, President Bill Willis, Secretary Judy Edmondson, and Historian Bill Spencer.

Juniors Adeptly Fall Into Their Distinctive Roles

The Class of 1970 took pride in its many accomplishments of this year. A great number of juniors have excelled scholastically, athletically, and musically. They have received honors for their outstanding achievements.

Juniors worked hard to present a beautiful prom in April. Preparing for this event proved to be one of the most exciting experiences of high school life.

We look forward to our next year as seniors with great anticipation and excitement. We hope that our last year at Hoover will be as rewarding and memorable as this one has been.

Sophomores Display Potential Talent and Ability

Last year, the class of 1971 entered Hoover High and embarked upon a new experience called "high school life." Most of us found that this was a very pleasurable and highly rewarding experience. This year has brought us even newer discoveries and greater experiences which we accepted just as readily.

The sophomore class has made great contributions in the classroom, on the athletic field, and in the various other extra-curricular activities. We have met the demands posed by our teachers and advisers, and we are still eager to learn.

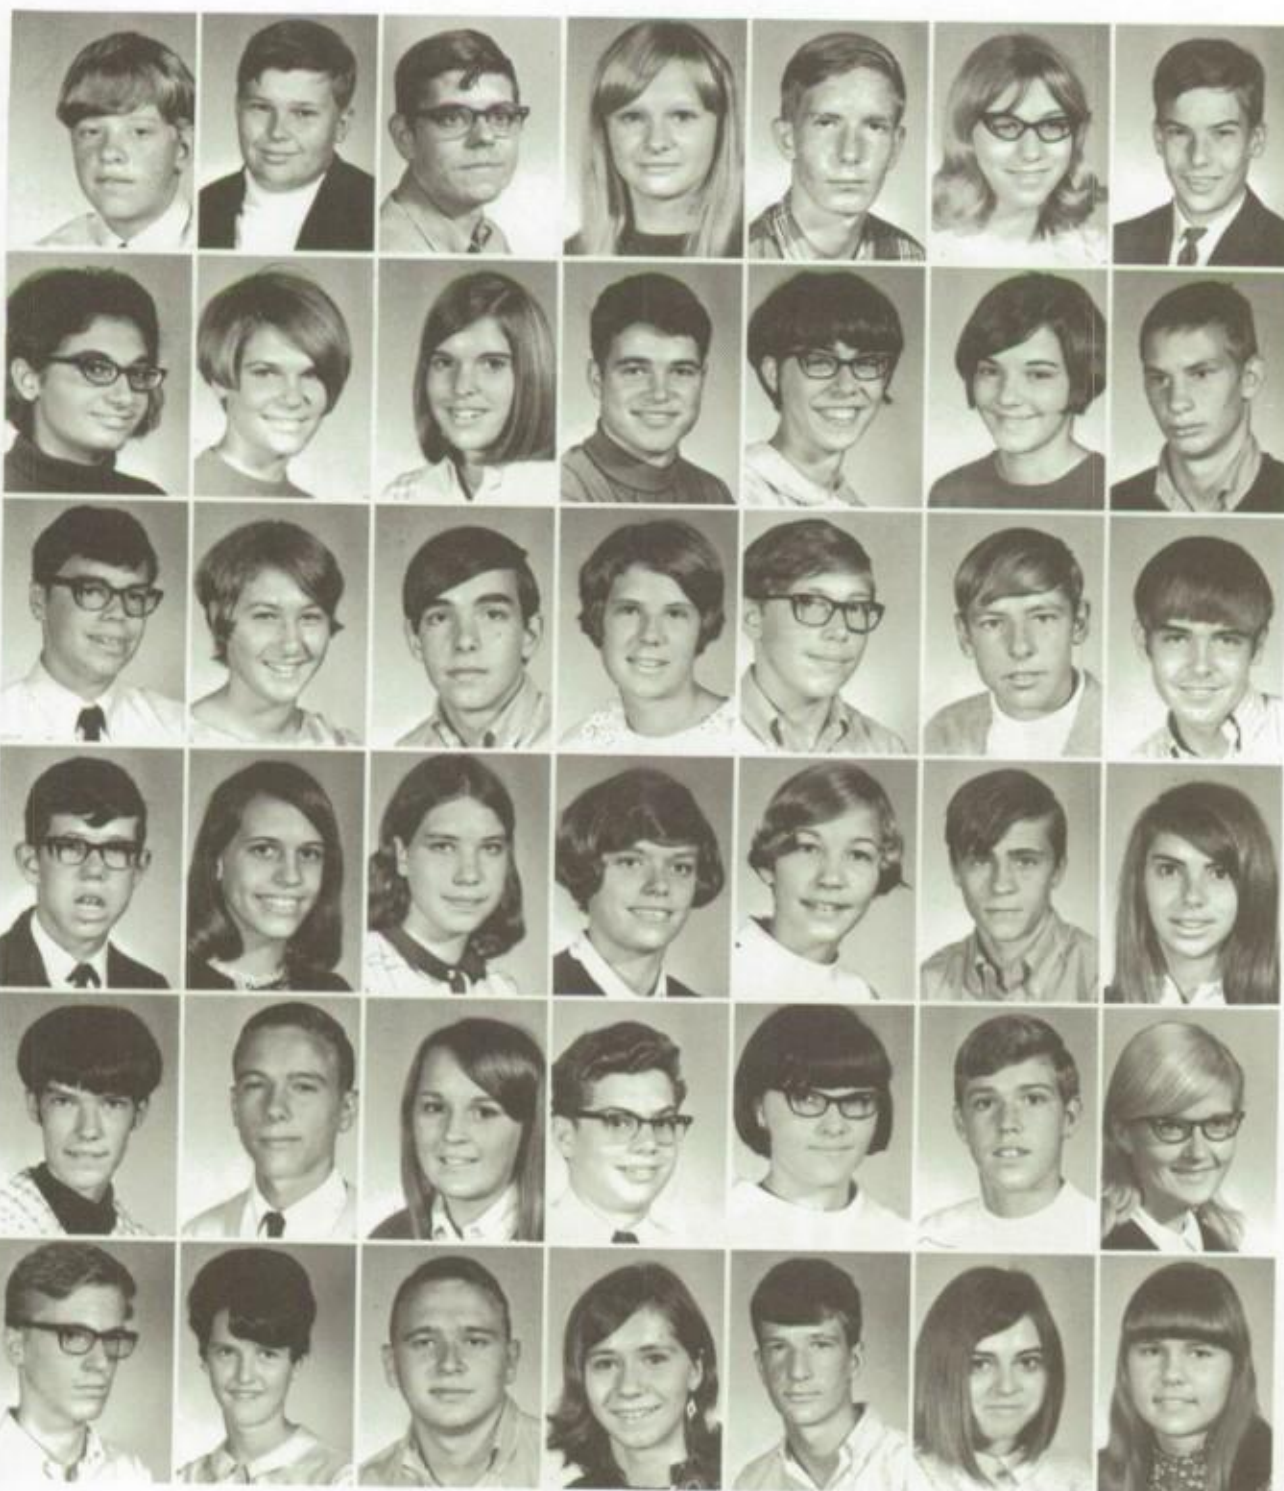

In conclusion, the class of 1971 would like to thank the teachers, coaches, and advisers who have contributed their time and energy in preparing us for the future. And we are looking forward, with anticipation, to our coming years at Hoover.

The sophomore class of 1968-69 selected able and diligent officers to guide them through both old and new experiences. They were: Jay Porter, class historian; Tim Strauch, vice president; John Hevlow, treasurer; Jeff Gilmore, president; and Becky Hertler, secretary.

Frosh Begin By Electing Reliable Class Officers

When the 380 members of the Freshman Class entered Hoover last fall, they walked into a new phase of their lives — high school life. They had to struggle to adjust themselves to the sorrows, joys, and confusion of being a part of the student body. As usual, the frosh were the underdogs in a world of upperclassmen, but they accepted the challenge of proving their potential as a class. They have shown their abilities in athletics, music, scholarship, and leadership. They have three more years to develop these talents to the utmost.

The freshmen are grateful for the guidance, instruction, and helpful suggestions they received toward becoming acquainted with their new environment. The Class of '72 is eagerly looking forward to its remaining years as participants in significant and rewarding activities.

Guiding the Class of 1972 this year are its officers: Tom Honold, vice-president; Betsy Mohler, secretary; Jim Armstrong, treasurer; Tom Powell, president; Helene Babich, historian.

Representatives to Student Council were elected by their respective homerooms to promote better understanding and communications between the school administration and the student body. This student governing unit discussed many school problems and made several suggestions concerning various school policies.

Senior Bill Trumpeter served a busy term as president of Student Council. His duties included presiding over the council meetings and introducing assemblies. Mr. Donald LaHue was their advisor.

This year's Student Council supervised the election of the cheerleaders, planned assemblies, and sponsored the Homecoming festivities.

Booster Club Sparks Enthusiasm and Active Team Support

Under the competent leadership of President Bill Spencer and Vice-President Holly Zingler, this year's Booster Club proved to be an exciting and active organization at Hoover High. After enrolling approximately 700 members, the club succeeded in its goal to promote school spirit, especially during football season. Some of their activities include a Homecoming weiner roast, a door decorating contest, and a Turnabout dance. Membership dues plus profits from selling booster tags and decals were used to sponsor their activities. The Booster Club benefits the school to a great extent because of the way it unites the students of Hoover High through its various activities and programs. It does this by not only backing our terrific athletic teams and squads, but also by presenting our school as one unit to the community and other schools in our area. Other officers this year are Secretary Andrea Bozeka and Treasurer Randy Geib.

Booster Club officers Holly Zingler, Andrea Bozeka, Randy Geib, and Bill Spencer are ready to watch another great Hoover game.

Hoover students at Dogwood Park are having fun at the Homecoming weiner roast. Besides cheering for the football team, the kids get a little nourishment to help support the Viking spirit.

"To Be a Kid Again" was the theme for this year's Turnabout dance. The girls asked the guys out, and prizes were given for the best costumes.

Integrity and High Ideals Merit National Honor

Membership in the National Honor Society is an honor conferred by the faculty on those students who have shown excellence in the school and in the community. Eligible students are judged on the basis of their scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

Previous members organized the annual induction ceremony this spring under the guidance of Mrs. Weeks, adviser. In a presentation before the assembled student body, students from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes were formally inducted into the society.

The officers for the National Honor Society for this year were Bruce Fiedorek, president; William Trumpeter, vice-president; and Denise Carabet, secretary-treasurer.

Climaxed by weeks of uncertainty, the induction ceremony becomes an exciting and unforgettable experience for the new inductees. The booklet and candle are proud mementos of a happy occasion.

Students Display Integrity, Diversified Interests

This year's exchange students are: Randi Seiferling, Staffan Salmonsson, and Rossy Cuellar.

Hoover High's exchange students have been a great asset to the student body this year. Staffan Salmonsson, who comes from Sweden, and Rossy Cuellar, from Bolivia, were both active in A Capella choir as well as other school activities. Randi Seiferling, one of our own students who is now a senior at Hoover, spent an enjoyable visit last year in Australia. Randi learned much about Australia just as Hoover students learned much about Bolivia and Sweden from Rossy and Staffan, while they in turn learned about our American way of life.

Boys' and Girls' State are programs designed to teach the delegates the functions of government by having them set up a mock government on the local, county, and state levels. The school makes its selections each year from the Junior class. Those who are chosen to represent the school participate in the program during the summer before their senior year.

Boys' State was held June 13-22 at Ohio University, while Capitol University hosted the Girls' Staters on June 15-23.

Last summer these Boys' and Girls' Staters spent a week as mock members of state and local government. They were: David Green, Sue Nickles, William Willis, Cindy Howes, and Diane Van-Valkenburg.

Hoover Students Are Prominent Scholastically

MATH SCHOLARSHIP TEAM. Row 1: C. Pickard, B. Kerman, M. Sweeney, J. Lotz, K. Clarke. Row 2: D. Oreolt, S. Losch, B. Murphy, D. Walters.

Each spring outstanding students compete for positions on Hoover's scholarship teams. There are tests in nearly every academic subject area; each requires an extensive knowledge of material covered, as well as yet to be covered, in the classroom, and a quick memory. In each of the subject areas, the four students who scored highest on a preliminary test go on to represent our school in the final District Scholarship Test held each year at Malone College.

The National Merit Qualifying Test is given every spring to all juniors who are interested. From the results on this test, semi-finalists are chosen on a state-wide basis and are then able to compete for merit scholarships and finalist status.

SCIENCE SCHOLARSHIP TEAM. Row 1: M. Franta, K. Steila, P. Norman, J. Kabala, M. Samblanet. Row 2: J. Spring, T. Urbas, J. Barnes, D. Sponsellor, C. Shuster, M. Phillips, M. Kolarik, B. Muckley.

Five Hoover students had high enough scores this year on the National Merit Scholarship Test to become semi-finalists. They were: David Green, Sally Thomas, Cindy Howes, Warren Fessler, and Scott Williams.

Debate Utilizes Intelligence to Its Fullest Extent

To become a member of the National Forensic League, a student must participate in interscholastic speech contests. Under the guidance of Mr. Jesse McDowell, adviser, Hoover students engaged in debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, and oratorical, humorous, and dramatic declamation.

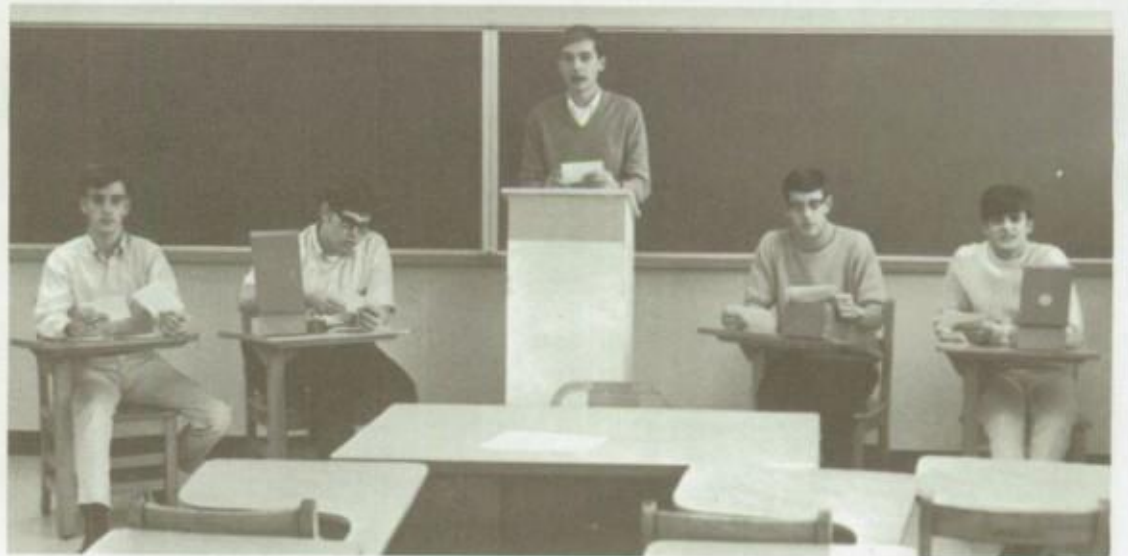

The debate teams spent the year discussing the various aspects of the topic, "Resolved: that the federal government should establish a system of compulsory service by all citizens."

Row 1: K. Brezger, secretary, C. Rainey, treasurer, Mr. McDowell, advisor, V. Sturiale, president, D. Green, vice-president. Row 2: K. Brown, D. Wiley, J. Speicher, D. Skibbens, K. Clarke, D. Kotte.

Row 3: N. Schorsten, J. Touse, J. McDowell, C. Shuster, G. Friend, N. Secunde, K. Ritchie.

"Debate" is the frustration of finding the evidence you needed during the debate only after the round is over!

The varsity debate team traveled throughout the state this year and placed consistently in the top five. The resolution covered everything from the inequities of the draft to the need for more people in the medical field. The varsity debaters were: Jim McDowell, Chris Rainey, Kelly Brezger, Dave Green, Vince Sturiale.

Staffs Receive Awards

Quill and Scroll honors students for their outstanding journalistic work on the school annual or newspaper. New members were inducted in February at a covered dish banquet in the school cafeteria.

The requirements for induction are that inductees must be in the upper third of their class, they must be recommended by either the journalism or yearbook adviser, they must have done outstanding work on a school publication, and must finally be approved by the national society's executive advisor. After the pledging ceremony, inductees were awarded membership cards and gold pins.

Acting Builds Culture

Thesians cultured students' interests in drama. The club presented the opportunity of studying, observing, and applying dramatic techniques and skills. The group thrived under the new advisorship of Mrs. Hope Marquardt.

Thespian members presented a play called The Family That Nobody Wanted, early in the fall and performed "The Lottery" for the Spring Fair. Members had the opportunity to attend a Kent State Drama Clinic that was climaxed by a performance of Romeo and Juliet.

Office Aides Help Lighten the Load

Office aides perform an important service in the main, guidance, and attendance offices by relieving the office secretaries of many time-consuming tasks. The office assistants are busy each period taking telephone calls and helping the office secretaries in every way possible. These girls thus gain first hand secretarial experience by doing clerical work and minor secretarial functions.

Student librarians aid the library staff and students, alike, by helping to insure the efficient operation of the library. These students engage their time and their abilities every period of the day by checking books in and out, shelving magazines and books, and by keeping the periodicals easily available to the students.

Students Are Helpful

Red Cross Club Strives to Help Other People

The Junior Red Cross, under their advisor Mrs. Griel, has been a very active club this year at Hoover High. They sponsored a group of volunteers for working at St. Luke's Home for the Aged, aided in the Toys for Tots campaign, and they worked with the Displays Committee for the Teacher-Sponsor Banquet held in Canton. Another project they were involved in was the Voices from the Schools, a project in which tapes are made and recorded in the schools and sent to servicemen who are from that school. They have truly been a great help to the welfare of our community.

Medical Arts Expands

The purpose and objective of the Medical Arts Club is to encourage students in the preparations, qualifications, and the establishment of themselves in the medical field, and to promote interest in personal and community health. To become a member, one only needs a sincere interest in a medical career. The most active member of the club receives the Medical Auxiliary plaque for the year, and her name is placed on it.

Educational Field Explored by Future Teachers

To unite all students of Hoover High who are considering teaching as a profession is the goal of the Future Teachers of America organization. The club tries to expand the horizons of students bound for a teaching career by exposing members to as many branches of education as possible. During National Education Week which is in November and Teaching Career Month which is April, they are exceptionally active with special projects. One of these projects was a pleasant and warm surprise for the teachers of Hoover High. They all received an apple in their office mailboxes with a poem attached that expressed the students' gratitude for all the help and guidance outside of class that the teachers give them. This year's officers are: President, Cindy Howes; Vice-President, Sally Andrews; Secretary, Faith Weston; Treasurer, Sue Nickles; and Historian, Nancy Herrington.

Wrapping books as Christmas presents for the needy children was one of the projects of the Future Teachers this year. The head of the committee in charge was Nancy Wilson, at the right.

Home Ec Reviews Many Homemaking Skills

The Home Ec Club officers devoted many long hours to planning an interesting and varied schedule for this year. The officers were Ken Naughtrip, Jody Perez, Pat Amiet, and Nancy Craven.

The Home Economics Club, the second largest club in the school, gives interested girls a chance to explore many topics in greater depth than can be done during their regular daily class. The members worked on projects and heard speakers on a variety of topics — hairstyling, marriage, fashions, and many more. One of the most interesting programs was a makeup demonstration by one of the leading cosmetics firms.

The girls who are members of this club are gaining knowledge and experience that they will need in the future whether they enter the field of home economics as a career or become housewives.

Future Secretaries Gain Practical Experience

The Future Secretary officers for this year were Sue Bagdasarian, Barb Forney, Jill Geese, Paula Eaver, and Sue Kilpatrick.

Students in the Future Secretaries Club are able to learn many practical skills that will be needed to be successful in the business world today. Through membership in this club, these commercial students heard speakers who described a number of interesting careers in business, and the requirements needed for them. The girls worked on possible problems that they may encounter after they have started to work.

This club provides its members with valuable knowledge and experience for the future, to supplement the skills that they learn in class. The members participated in a number of projects and activities throughout the year, including a Christmas caroling party. These girls will be well qualified for secretarial work after graduation.

President Mark Sousa discusses German Club activities with fellow officers Sally Andrews, secretary-treasurer; and Sue Peters, vice-president. Mrs. Ream served as their advisor.

German Club Studies Language and Culture

German Club members increased their knowledge and deepened their understanding of Germany, its language, and its culture through their various activities during the past year.

Students sang German carols at their Christmas party, and sampled tasty, genuine German food at their May picnic. Advisor to the group was Mrs. Mary Ream.

The members spent much time in preparing an effective display for the Malone College Language Fair. The theme of their display was "The German Hall of Fame."

Several members enjoy the festivities of their annual Christmas party that echoes German tradition through the seasons' carols, many of which originated in Germany itself, long ago.

One of the major projects of the French Club this year was the exchange program which they conducted with some French Clubs from other area schools. In this program they combined their meetings and also had a skating party. The members participated in the Malone College Language Fair with an exhibit of slides from France, accompanied by an interesting commentary in French.

Other plans for the year included the annual banquet, a variety of interesting speakers, an Ice Cream Social with a French flair, Christmas caroling, and a Mardi Gras costume party.

The French Club encourages the students' interest in the language and customs of France by emphasizing the culture and life in France rather than grammar. The club members enjoy this because it gives them a deeper insight into the French language than be gained during their regular limited class time.

The three officers of the French club for this year were Julie Joliat, Vicki Thomas, and Faith Weston. These diligent and resourceful girls worked hard to bring the French club the great success that it enjoyed during the year in its many activities.

The Hoover High Latin Club, or Discipuli Antiquorum, is a member of the Junior Classical League, a national society for the advancement of classical studies. Club meetings consist of Latin plays, style shows for Roman clothing, movies about Roman life, and slides of Greece and Italy. Highlighting the club's activities are an exhibit at the Language Fair and a Roman banquet at the end of the year.

One of the reasons why the Latin Club's activities went so smoothly this year was its officers. They were responsible for much of the planning behind both the banquet and the Language Fair exhibit. The officers for this year were: Tim Stanceu, president; Keith Ritchie, vice-president; Debbie Stefan, secretary; and Don Gillman, treasurer.

The Latin Club won the second-place prize at the Fair. Who said that Rome was not built in a day?

GAA Develops Sportsmanship and Coordination

The major purposes of the Girls' Activities Association are to teach the members leadership and sportsmanlike conduct through participating in the sports that they enjoy. G. A. A. members engaged in activities such as biking, ice-skating and skiing. Other events were hayrides, Mother-Daughter Banquet, and Dad-Daughter Date Night. Tournaments in basketball, volleyball, and kickball highlighted the active season for the girls.

Club members increase their skill and coordination by playing competitive sports. Basketball has always been a favorite.

The girls actively participated in exciting intramural games, like volleyball. Members are having fun while they practice.

Math Club Helps to Develop Logic and Reason

The hard working officers who made this year a success for the Math Club were Tim McLinden, Barb Smith, Ron Bell and Bob Dehn.

The Math Club, now in its eleventh year, is the oldest club at Hoover. Open to anyone interested in math, the club helps members expand their classroom work through speakers, student programs, and field trips to places like NASA. The dues are used to buy materials for the school, including paperback books and review information for the MAA tests. One of the highlights of the year is the annual picnic in Alliance.

Mu Alpha Theta, the National High School and Junior College Math Club, is actually a selective club within the Math Club. A student must have a B-plus average in Math, maintain an overall average of a B, and be recommended by his math instructor.

Science Opens A Secret World

Biology Club encourages additional study of biology. It offers experiments not possible in the classroom, such as extensive chromosome study. The club aims to broaden its members' understanding and appreciation of biology.

The National High School Biology Honor Society recognizes the outstanding students of biology. It is opened to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have excelled in biology as well as other subjects, and who have participated in some type of worthwhile research.

Dave Oreolt and Alan Kalagidis prepare and observe a variety of cultures in biology lab.

Biology students peer into their microscopes often during the course of the school year.

What the Chess Club might seemingly have lacked in the range of its activities, it more than made up for in fun. Here junior Tom Sweitzer studies intently the advance of Black's knight and tries to determine what the best moves for his pieces would be.

Perception and Power Of Concentration Are Required Chess Skills

In its second year at Hoover, the Chess Club provides its members with a chance to test their knowledge of the game and ample opportunity to learn to develop their own chess strategy. With Mr. Trott as advisor, members challenge each other to games and also compete in intra-mural chess tournaments. In addition, the top five chess players in the club participate in contests with other schools.

Officers of this year's Chess Club were: Mark Samblanet, president; Chris Rainey, vice-president; Neil Schorsten, secretary; and Jay Faulhaber, treasurer.

The Print Club is open to any student in the advanced Graphic Arts classes who is interested in more experience than can be gained during class time. It is gained by printing different projects, such as stationery, Christmas cards and record books, and other jobs. Profits from the jobs purchase additional equipment for students in the Graphic Arts department.

The club made field trips to local printing firms and saw technical movies. It also participated in the Science Fair. There is an annual banquet for the club members.

Art Club Lends Color To School Activities

Students developed their skills and talents and increased their appreciation of art through Art Club activities. Assisted by advisors Mr. T. Palmer and Miss C. Negulici, art students indulged in many creative projects.

Throughout the year, the members of Art Club performed many valuable services for the school. They assisted with several school stage productions, painted booster posters, and drew individual sketches of the football players for the lobby display saluting the team during football season. They also decorated the lobby for the Christmas holidays.

Viking Views Covers The News

The Viking Views presented a practical printing experience for the students in journalism classes. An editorial staff, appointed by Mr. John Mazzerella, consisted of four page editors and an editor-in-chief, who planned the page layouts and assigned stories for each issue. Assigned to this difficult task for the first semester was Kris Kangas, first page; Diane VanValkenburg, second page; Karen Brown, third page; and Jon Baker, fourth page. Scott Williams served as the editor-in-chief first semester. Also on the staff was Gary Friend, business manager; Glenn Lohr, photographer; and several columnists.

Some of the regular features of the monthly paper included articles of editorial comment, a political column, fashion news, feature articles, club news, and a newly introduced opinion poll concerning school and national affairs.

Page editors Karen Brown, Diane VanValkenburg, and Jon Baker collaborated to plan the pages for the first issues of the paper.

Mr. John Mazzerella advises the second semester editor-in-chief, Jim Stanceu, about pertinent details concerning the Viking Views.

Prom Helps Majestic South to Rise Once Again

Reigning graciously over Hoover High's 1967-68 Prom are: Miss Karen Naughtrip, junior attendant, Miss Cindy Willaman, senior attendant, Miss Nancy Cullen, 1968 prom queen, Miss Pat Toole, senior attendant, and Miss Carol Lothamer, junior attendant.

Couples who attended the prom traditionally sign the guest book, which was presented to Queen Nancy after the dance.

Posing with their escorts, Queen Nancy Cullen and court sit prettily on the gazebo centered on the floor.

Junior class secretary Sue Kerman presents Queen Nancy and her court with bouquets of roses following the crowning ceremonies.

The theme "Gone With the Wind" graced the 1967-1968 Junior-Senior Prom with all the grandeur and splendor of the Old South that the title suggests. Through much work and planning of the Junior class decorating committee, which was headed by Bruce Fiedorek, the Prom turned out to be one of the most beautiful proms ever held at Hoover. Guests entered a lush, green garden outlined with hedges and decorated with a sparkling fountain. Here they were greeted by the plantation house-servants, who showed them the guest book and took their wraps. Passing through the iron gates, couples entered the colorful front lawn of a glowing Southern mansion. Baskets of bright flowers and glittering lanterns hung from a magnificent cathedral ceiling. A mural picturing the plantation countryside highlighted the one side of the garden wall. Beautiful programs and memory books designed by Sue Bien showed a Mississippi riverboat as well as a Southern belle.

The queen, Miss Nancy Cullen, was crowned by Junior Class President Bruce Acer. Nancy's court consisted of senior attendants Cindy Willaman and Pat Toole, and junior attendants Carol Lothamer and Karen Naughtrip.

Couples find themselves in a dreamy, romantic atmosphere as they dance the night away to the music of the Glenwood band.

Sparkle of Queen and Her Court Brighten the '68 Homecoming

Two of our team members stand and watch the progress of this crucial game that left us tied for second place in the league.

The members of the 1968 Court were: Kathy Smiley, freshman attendant; Karen Naughtrip, Queen; Julie Baker, sophomore attendant; Peggy White, senior attendant; and Diane Shetler, junior attendant. They were escorted at the game by Charlie Little, Gary Schoeppner, Jim Friday, Tim Wolf, and Tom Fry. Bill Parker escorted Debbie Zingler, the 1967 Queen.

The 1968 Homecoming weekend was memorable from when it began with a pep rally until it ended with the dance. A high point of the year, this weekend contained many traditions, such as the march to the game and the coronation of the queen. Not even a heavy downpour could stop the pre-game ceremonies when last year's queen, Debbie Zingler, crowned Karen Naughtrip as the 1968 Homecoming Queen. The Viking team then put up a spirited resistance to the Oakwood Raiders on the rain drenched field.

Football was the prevailing theme of the Homecoming Dance. The gym was decorated with footballs and players, and there were miniature goalposts on the tables. Football films of past games were shown in the lobby.

This year's queen, Karen Naughtrip, smiles as she is escorted off the field by Gary Schoeppner after the coronation. After the traditional pre-game ceremonies the court retired to watch the game from cars parked along the sidelines.

Understanding Music Is The Key To Perfection

Concert Band Thrives Under Capable Leader

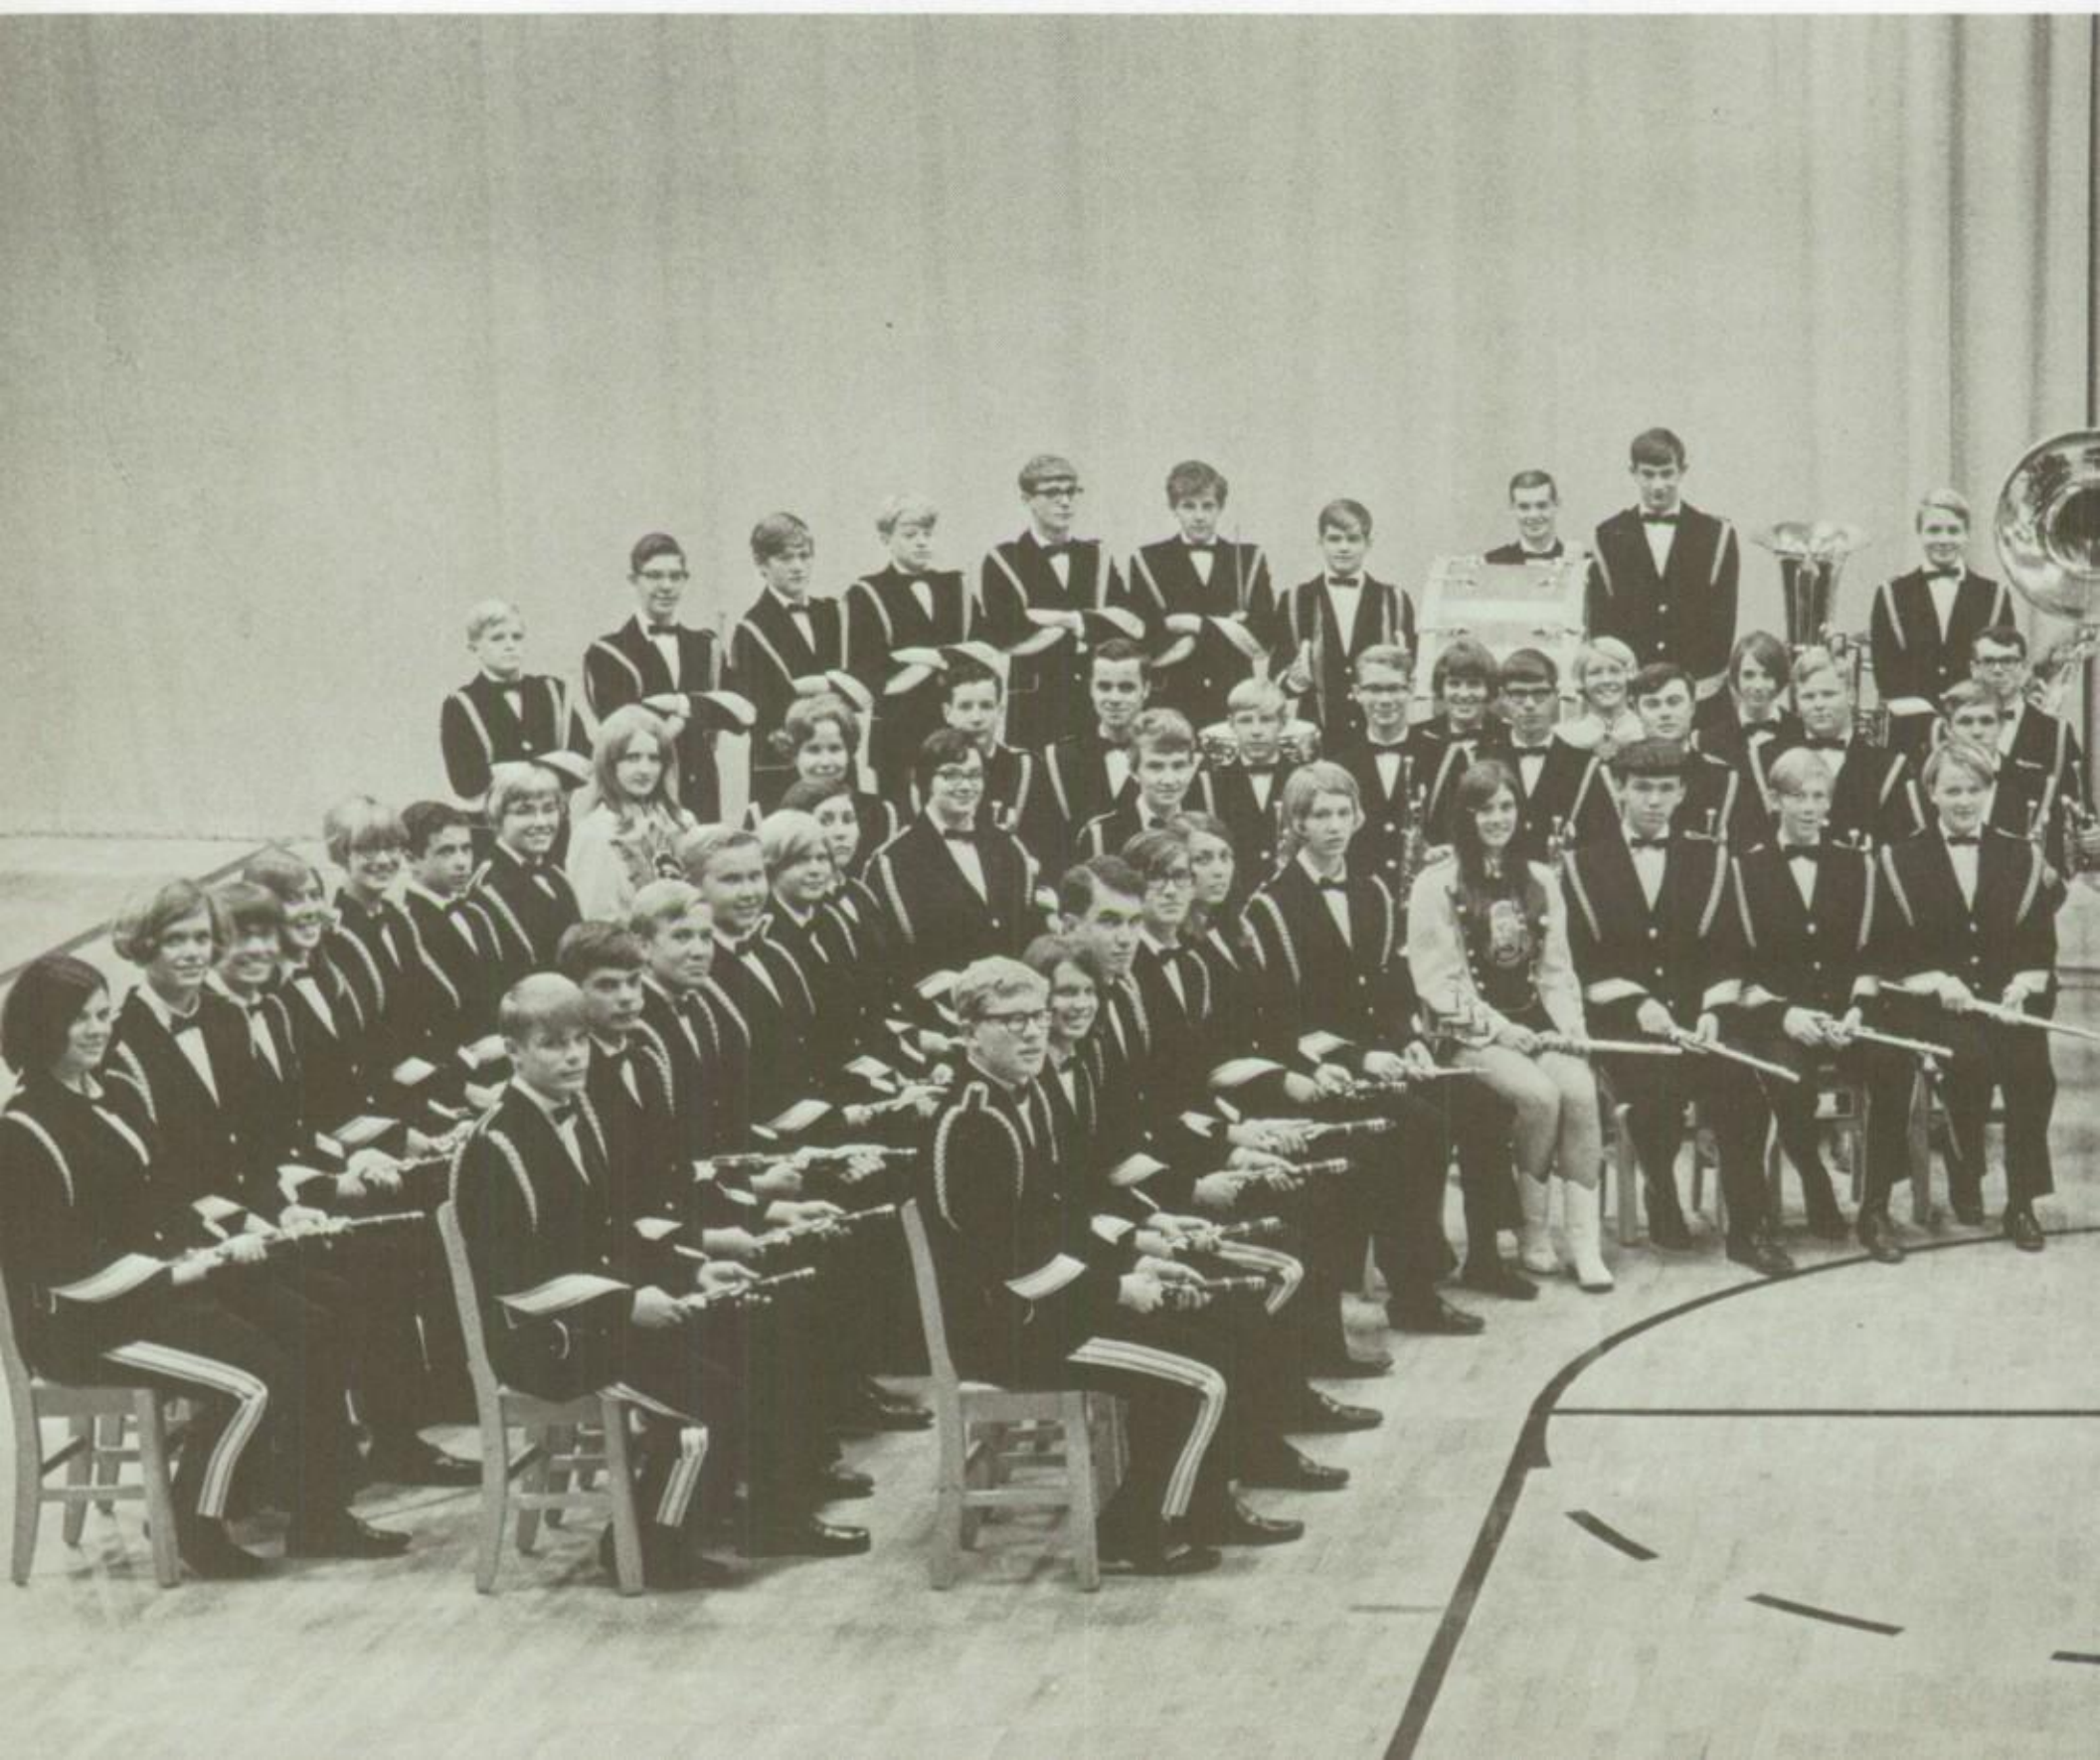

The high stepping marchers of the Hoover High Band had a new halftime show each week. Music varied from the top ten to the old time favorites of the spectators. As marching season closed, the attention was turned to Concert Band.

In Concert Band the bandsman is given a complete cross-section of music literature. The music ranges from pop to classic. The variety not only teaches but also adds to the listening enjoyment of the audience.

An added attraction to the instrumental department this year was the Dance Band. Under the direction of Mr. Vinci, the band performed many noted selections arranged by him.

Cadet Band Members Acquire Musical Skills And Techniques

Working diligently sixth period in the band room is the Cadet Band. These talented, potential band members are a training group striving for the immediate goal of performance and the eventual goal of Senior Band. The literature studied gives each instrumentalist the experience of a comprehensive musical study. Performing along with the Senior Band in concert, the cadet musicians are given a new experience, exploring for themselves the tensions of a public presentation.

Majorettes Lead Band Add Sparkle, Interest

Adding spice to the half-time entertainment were the spirited majorettes. Well performed routines each week were the results of long, tedious hours of practice. Carol Reeder, head majorette, created the new dances and twirling routines for each performance with the assistance and cooperation of the other six majorettes. Especially appreciated by the student body, the majorettes inspired the team as they danced at the pep rallies. These talented girls are well deserving of the compliment, "The most outstanding majorette line of Stark County!"

This year Mr. Albert Vinci took over the reins of the orchestra lending talent, inspiration, and fine leadership to the group.

The Hoover High Orchestra is part of one of the few full string programs in the surrounding Stark County area. This year the orchestra performed in concerts with the Senior and Cadet Bands. A woodwind tentet also accompanied the choir in the Christmas Oratorio. The literature varies from modern to classical assortments, giving each member a wide range of musical training. This variety of music gives the student a basic understanding of musical literature. The modern music keeps the participant interested, while the classical music makes the situation educational. The result is an invaluable experience for the skillful members and an appreciative audience.

Music Was Made For Memories

The Band from '68 proved that music is not all work, as band students and guests danced in the enchanted world of "An Evening in Paris" during the night of entertainment. Entering through the Arc de Triomphe into the gaiety of French cafes and sights, couples were fascinated by colorful fountains, flower wagons, a wishing well, and a French boutique. The queen and her court were presented at the foot of the Eiffel Tower. Regally appearing Betsy Thomas had the honor of reigning as queen. Her attendants were Madeline Macy, Freshman; Peggy Large, Sophomore; Sue Kerman, Junior; and Jackie Hosmer, Senior.

In an atmosphere of the magic and merriment of an evening in "Gay Paree" every couple could enjoy a treat at the French cafe, dance in the streets, or admire the quaint flower wagons.

Tough Competition Challenges Every Musician

Practice is the key necessary to open the door to a successful and rewarding contest performance by both soloists and groups.

A superior rating at contest is a major goal of groups in both music departments. The wearisome hours of practice and the endless strife for perfection both seem worthwhile if this goal is achieved in district competition. Then comes the decision whether or not to go on to state contest. Individuals also realize the tensions of competition as soloists, quartets, quintets, brass choir, and vocal ensembles each compete for ratings. Shouts of "We got a one!", though heard infrequently at the contest site, are always sure to reward and inspire the efforts of everyone.

Performance before the contest judge requires the ultimate effort for precision, quality, and control by every member of the group.

These medals represent the hours of preparation and the thrill of competition which combine to make contest participation a valuable and memorable learning experience.

Rating sheets provide each performer with personal pointers for practice, improvement, and development.

Desire Is The Key to Perfect, Enthusiastic Year

The A'cappella Choir added to the cultural aspect of our school year with its varied programs. Their seventy voices combined forces to present Horwitt and Hague's Plain and Fancy in November. December brought Christmas and the presentation of Saint Saen's Christmas Oratorio with accompaniment provided by the band. In the spring, after hours of work, they traveled to the District Choral Contest. In May, once again, they combined efforts to present the Annual Spring Sing, the theme of which this year was How the West Was Won.

The "cream-of-the-crop", more formally referred to as the Hi Lows, performed for various service groups, fraternal organizations, and PTA groups. They entertained groups not only in North Canton, but in the surrounding areas. For Solo and Ensemble Contest, the Hi Lows entered four different groups. Two were mixed ensembles of eight people. Another group was an octet of boys and another an octet of girls.

Enthusiasm Sparkles As Sophomore Mixed Sing

The primary goal of those in the Sophomore Mixed Chorus is to eventually work their way into the A'cappella Choir. Each year they begin their work with Mr. Alexander to develop the skills necessary for perfecting and performing the more difficult choral work expected of the members of the A'cappella Choir.

This beginning chorus had three main projects during the year. At Christmas, they joined forces with the A'cappella Choir and a woodwind tentette to present Saint Saen's Christmas Oratorio. In the spring, they traveled to the District Choral Contest in which they were in direct competition with the A'cappella Choir. Their biggest project of the year was their participation in the Annual Spring Sing. Then, along with the other choirs, they displayed the accomplishments of the year.

The principle purpose of the Freshman Chorus is to educate the young musicians in the basics of music. Under the talented direction of Mr. Alexander, these students develop such skills of musicianship as reading music, controlling breath, and improving tone quality. Throughout the year, the Freshman program also includes bits of music theory and appreciation, which will be used during the following three years in the vocal department.

For rehearsing purposes, the Freshman Chorus is separated into a boys' glee club and a girls' glee club. However, for performances they combine to form one chorus numbering over one hundred members. This year, for the first time, the Freshman Chorus entered District Choir Contest on the junior high level. They also contributed their sound and spirit to the festivities of the Annual Spring Sing held in May.

By developing skills of music writing and analysis, theory students learn music styles and structures.

The Sophomore Girls Glee Club combined its talent and enthusiasm with that of the Jr.-Sr. Glee Club to produce a most impressive sound. They conclude their year with try-outs for the A'cappella Choir or the Junior-Senior Glee Club.

Each Thanksgiving, all the girls glee clubs perform together for an inspiring assembly.

The girls glee clubs combine their efforts into a mass chorus during contest season, requiring extra hours of practicing and perfecting.

Glee Club Sings Out

The eighty-five voices of the Junior-Senior Glee Club together with those of the Sophomores, blended to form the sounds of one of the best Glee Clubs in the area.

Their main projects this year included competing in the District Choral Contest, presenting a most inspirational Thanksgiving assembly to the Student Body as well as a concert of their own. The final event of the year was their participation in the Annual Spring Sing.

ATHLETICS

The 1968 school year meant a little more to the football team and coaches than ever before, as Hoover became a member of the Federal League. Both team and school pride became more meaningful with a championship title as a goal.

The first step for success began August 16 when practice for the new season began. Desire and determination were shown each week by the members of the Hoover team. The team had to be prepared both mentally and physically, for these factors would determine the success of the Vikings during each week of the very difficult ten game schedule.

At the close of the successful season, the Hoover Vikings had a Co-Championship trophy to show for their hard work and dedication as well as their excellent coaching staff.

Pre-game tensions and hard concentration can be seen on the face of Tom Skirtech as he awaits the start of a very important game.

Though hurt through part of the season, senior back Hank Escola was a threat to his opponents whenever he carried the football.

Coach Hertler had many puzzled looks on his face during the season as his team was full of many unexpected surprises.

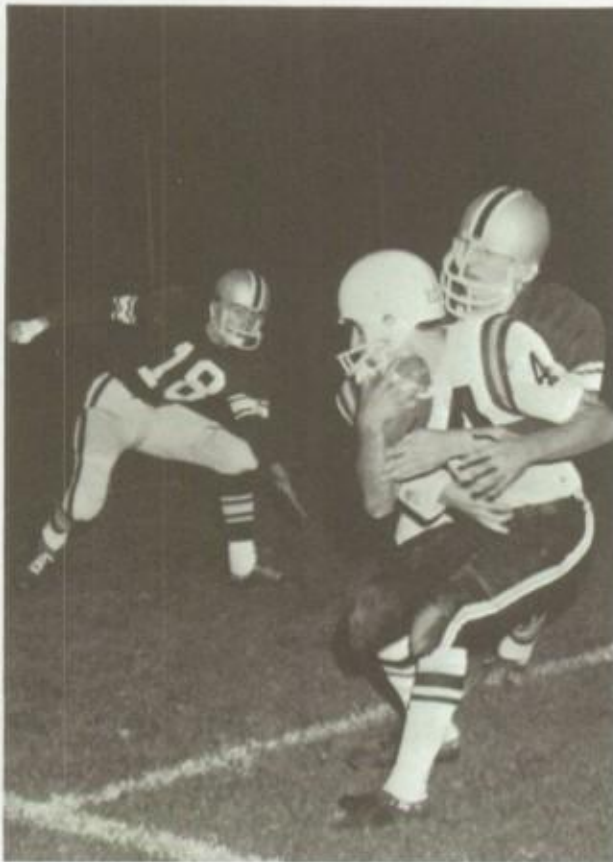

Co-captains Hank Escola and Bill Trumpeter were great team leaders as they sparked their team to a share of the Federal League Title.

With Bill Trumpeter leading the blocking, Mike Romeo gained the needed yardage on this play.

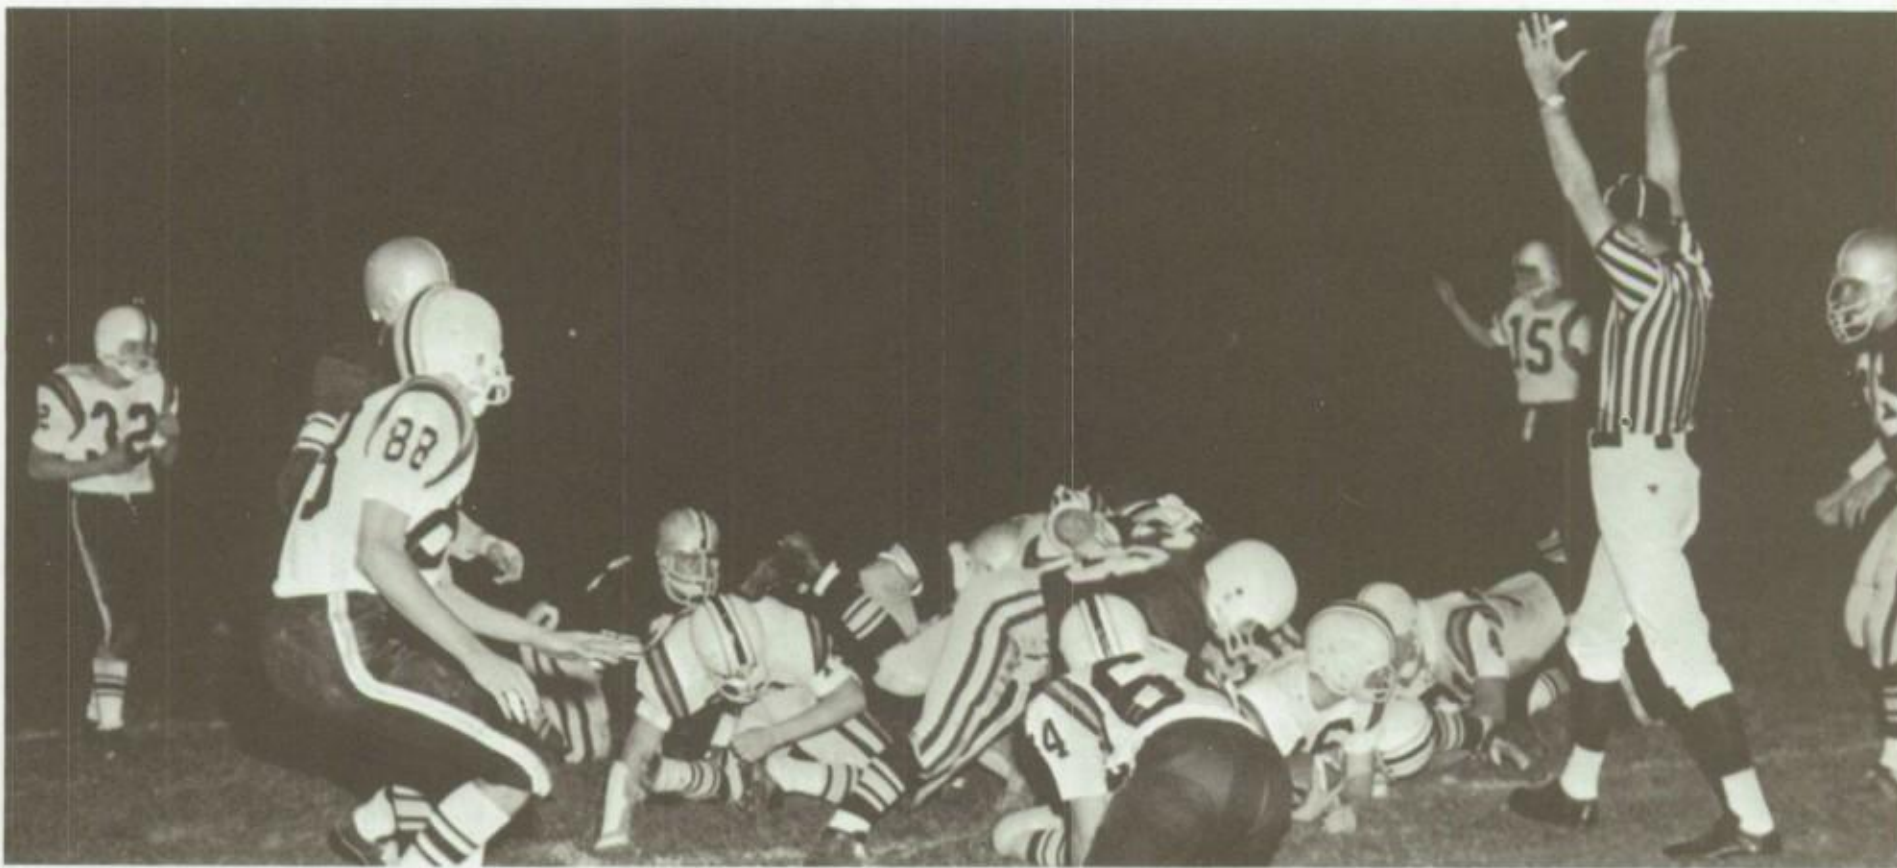

Mike Romeo's ability to catch the ball was a very important element of the Hoover attack.

HHS Gridders Prepare To Win

The 1968 football team put together an over all season record of seven wins and three defeats under Head Coach Hertler. In Federal League action, they finished with a record of seven wins and one loss; that one coming at the hands of the powerful Oakwood Raiders. Hoover gained a share of the Federal League Championship when Fairless surprised and beat the previously unbeaten Raiders. In their only two non-league games, Hoover suffered losses to the invading Wooster Generals and the Lehman Polar Bears. The Vikings closed the season with a triumphant victory over their arch-rival, the Jackson Polar Bears.

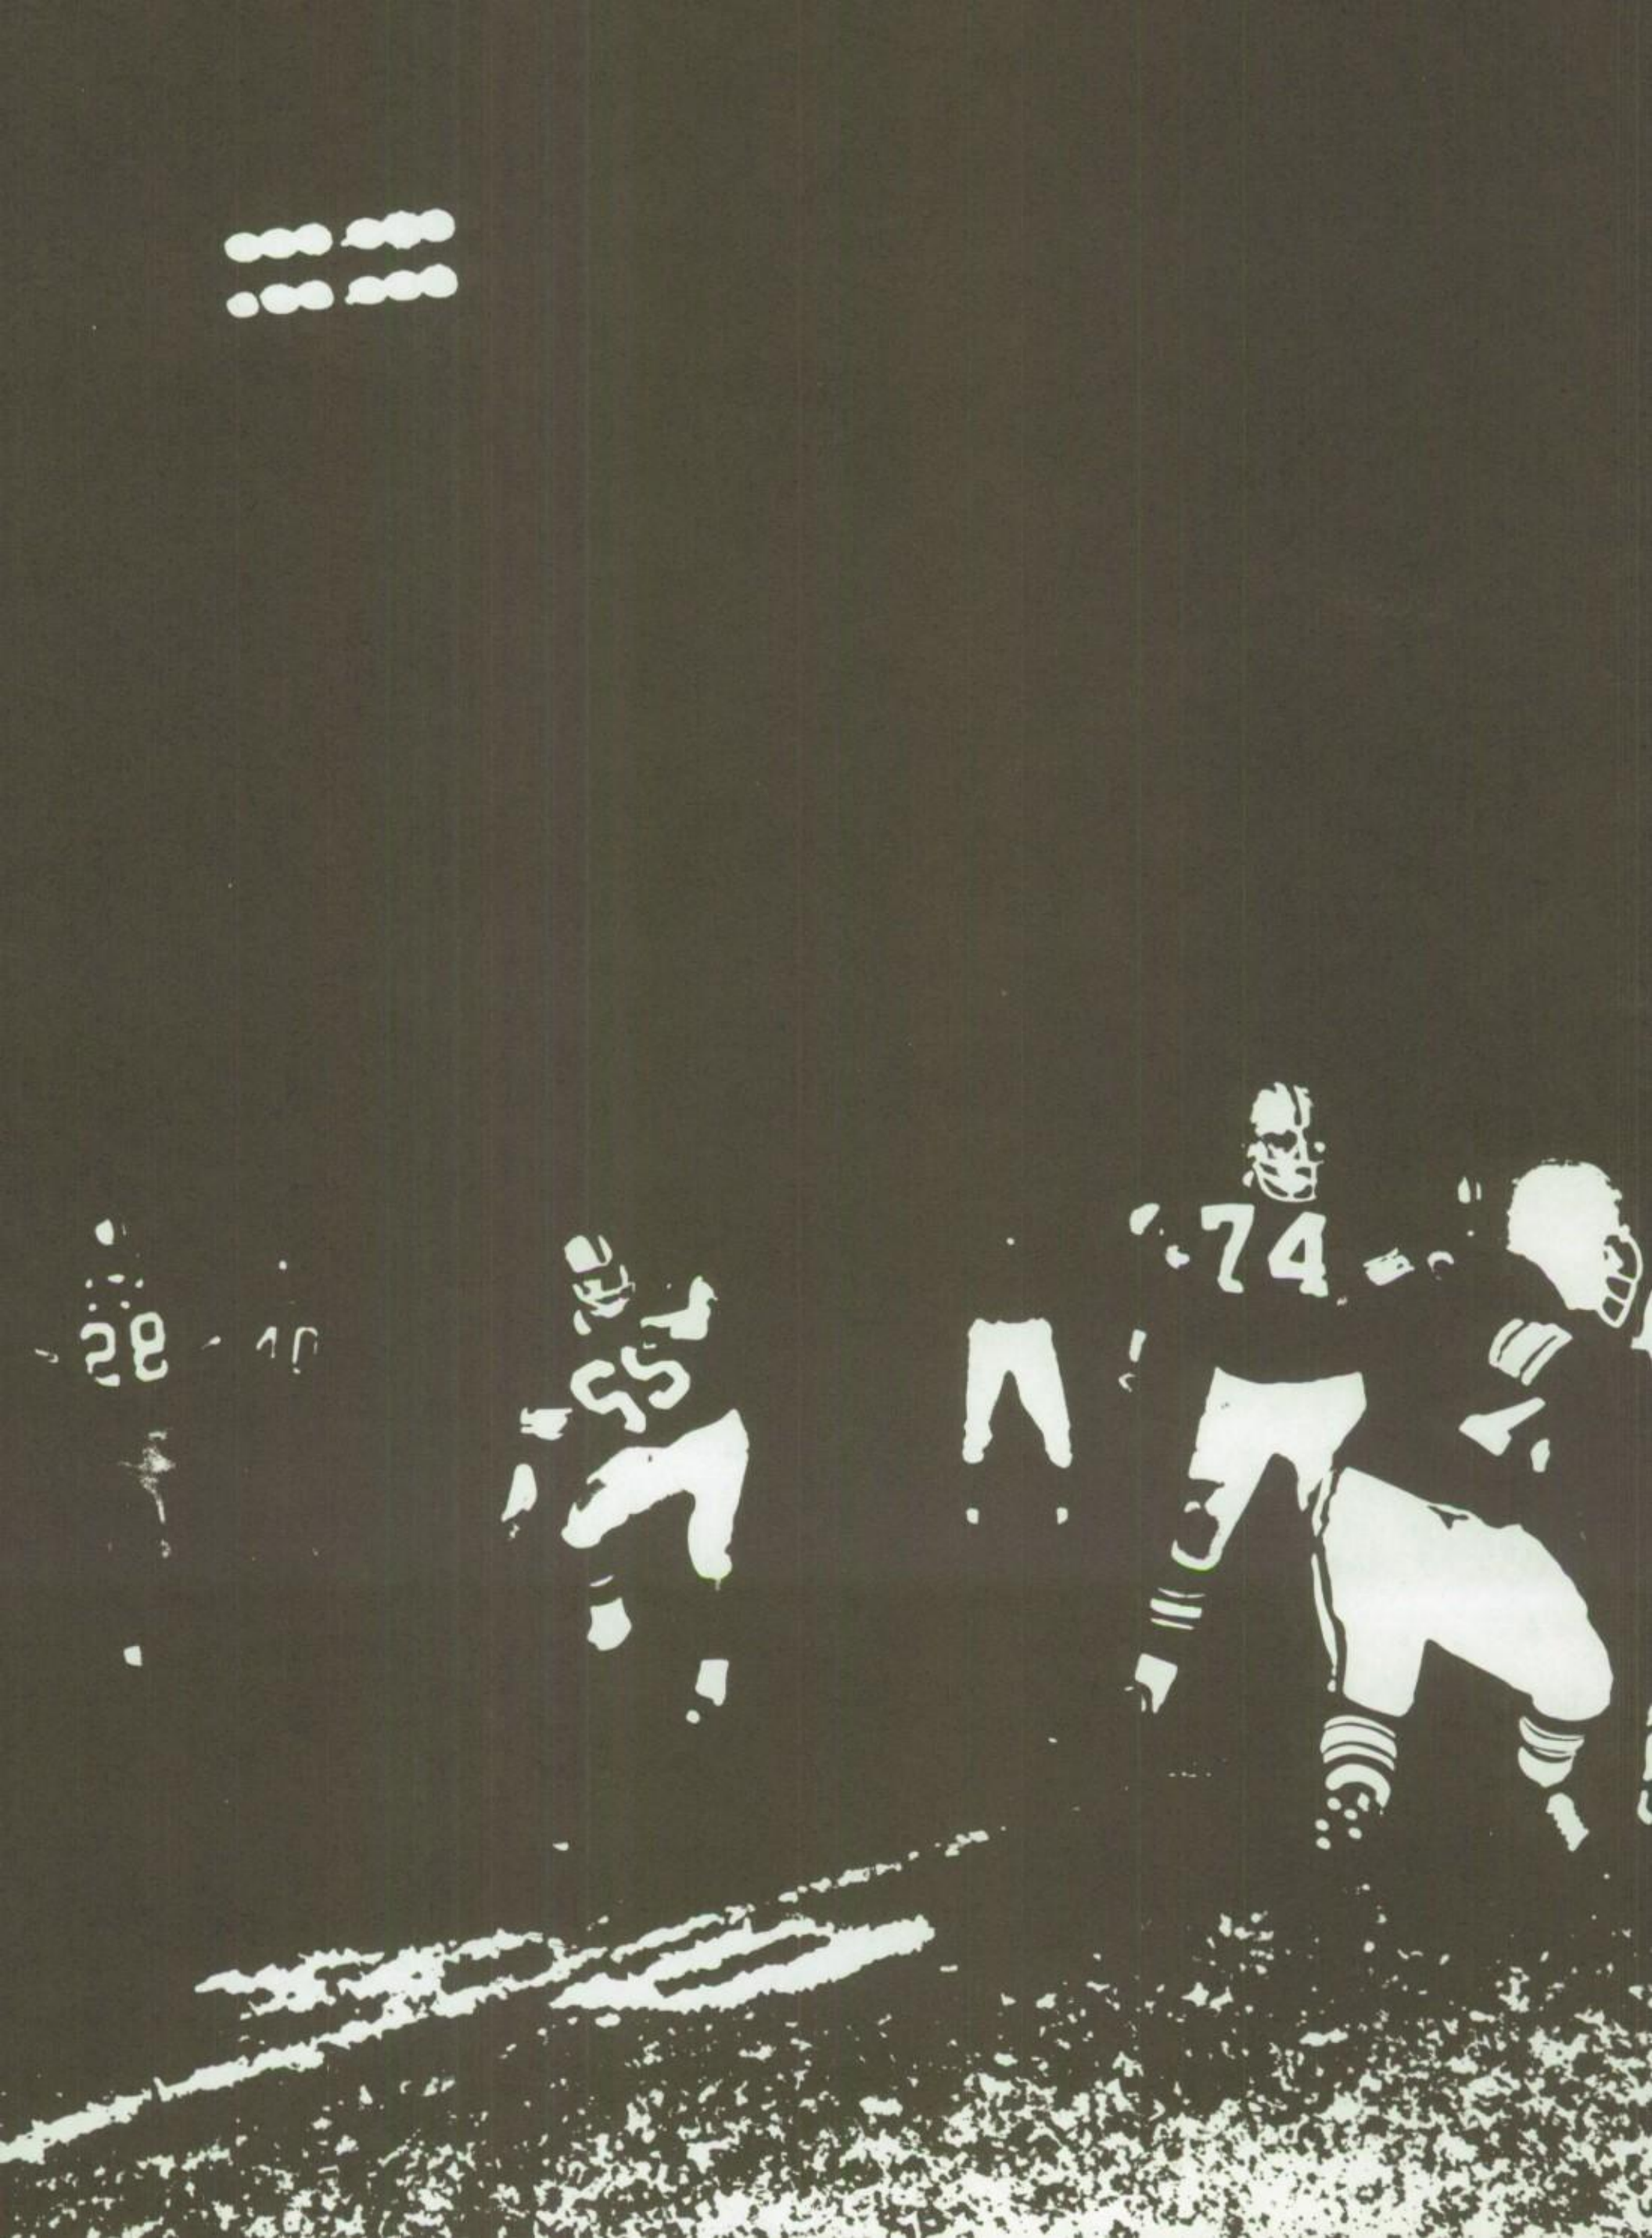

Co-captains Hank Escola and Bill Trumpeter led their team on the field. Although the Vikings suffered many injuries to key players, their depth was shown by the abilities of the second string. These boys displayed great composure under pressure and should be a fine nucleus for next season's team.

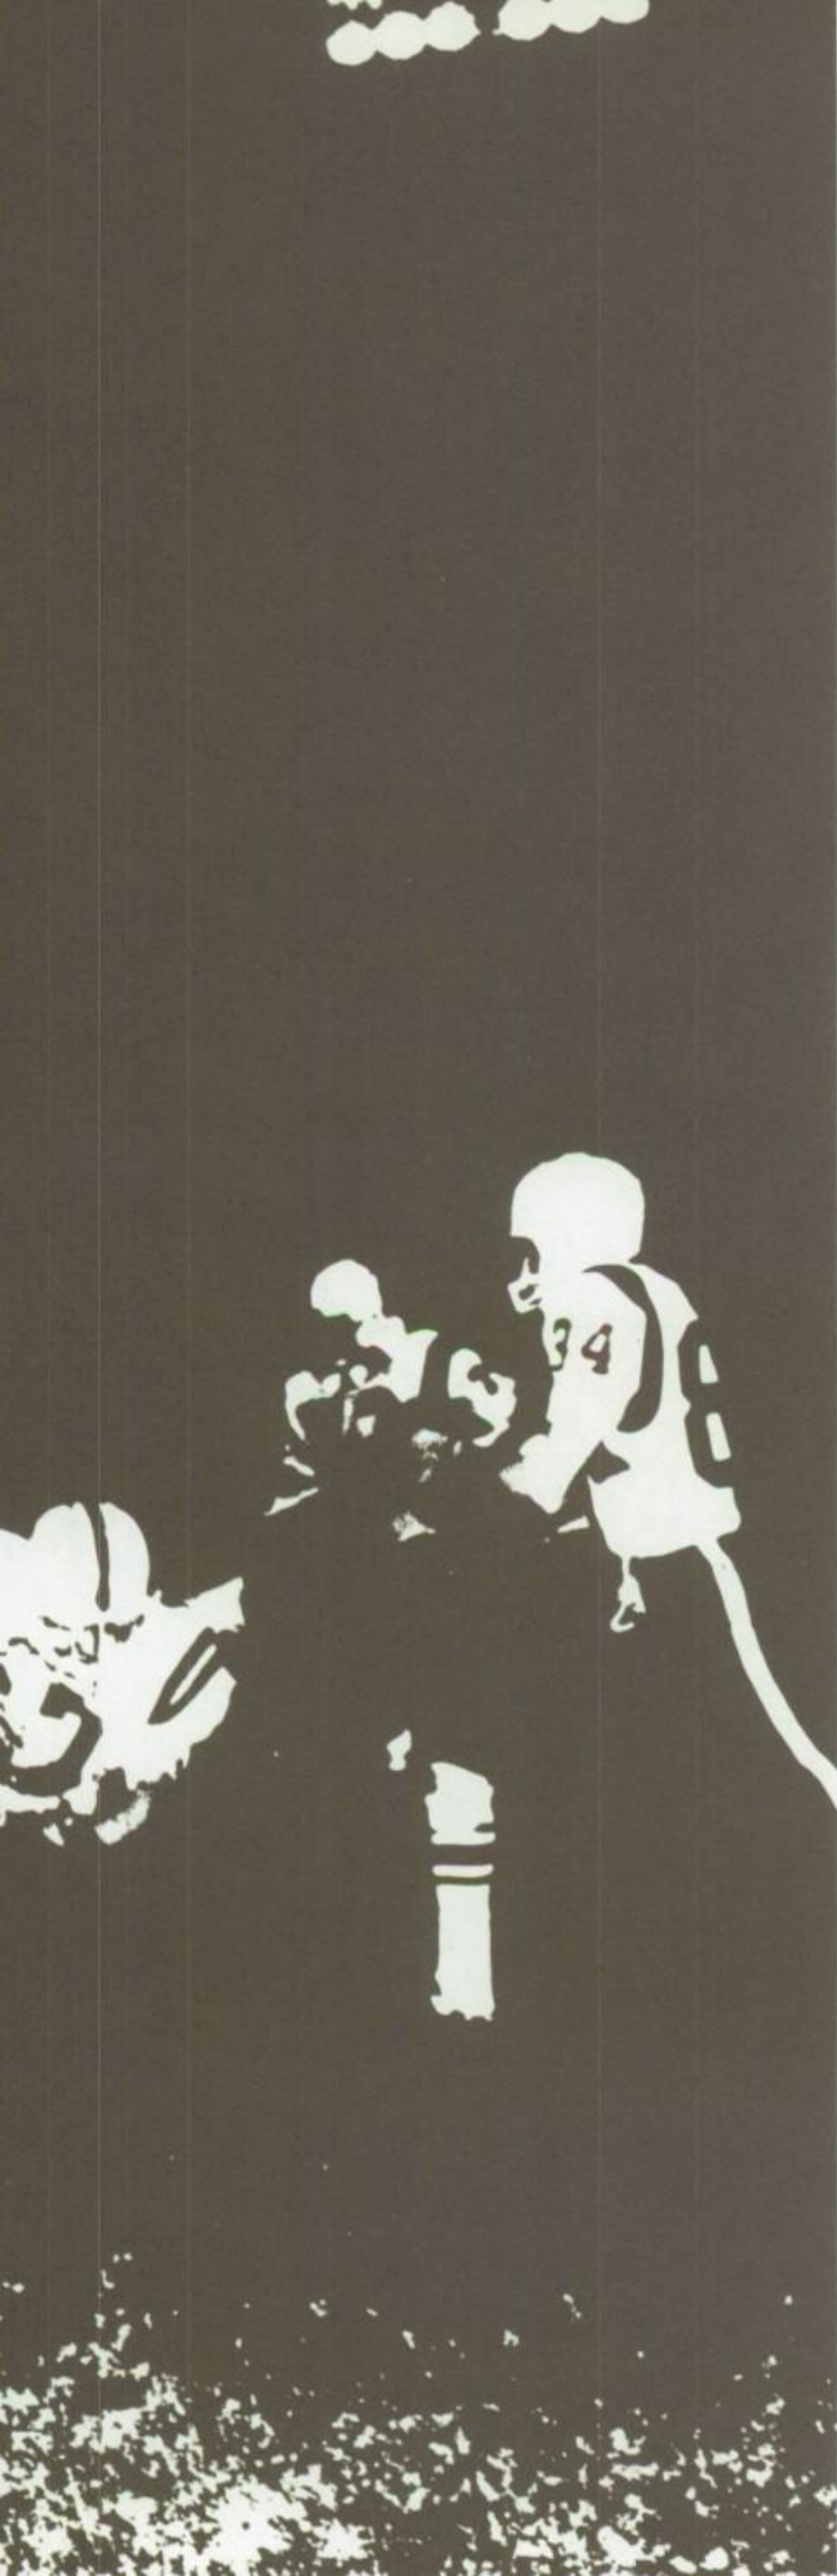

Quarterback Greg Brown found the going tough, but was able to squeeze through a hole created by his front line for a score.

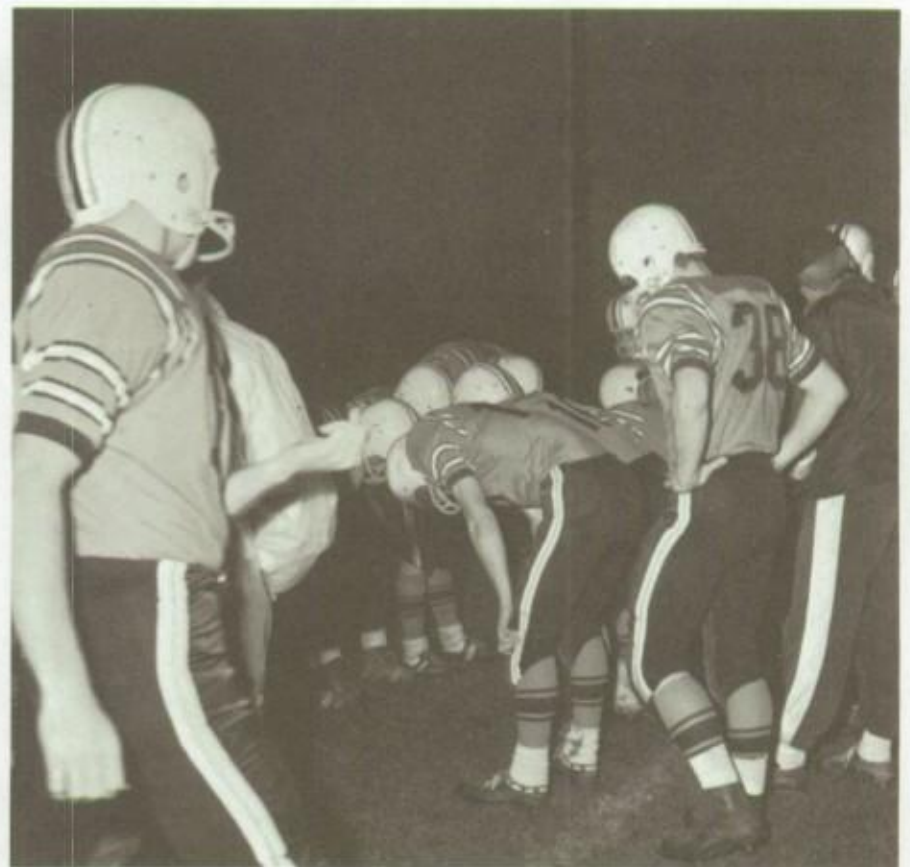

Often, the hardest position to play in a game is that of sitting on the bench and waiting.

Boys Overcome Size To Win Important And Exciting Games

The Hoover huddle was the source of many important plays that enabled the Vikings to win seven out of ten games this season.

Behind the able blocking of seniors Bill Trumpeter (73) and Bill Parker (67), junior Scott Freday (84) was able to gain the necessary yardage.

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y

The 1968 Reserve football squad completed a very successful season with a fine record of seven wins, one loss, and one tie under Head Coach Dieringer and his assistant Coach Tolarchyk. The Viking Jayvees were tied by Perry before being blanked in a close contest by Canton South.

This Hoover Reserve team was a very hard working unit and gained valuable experience for next year's varsity team.

Frosh Show Promise

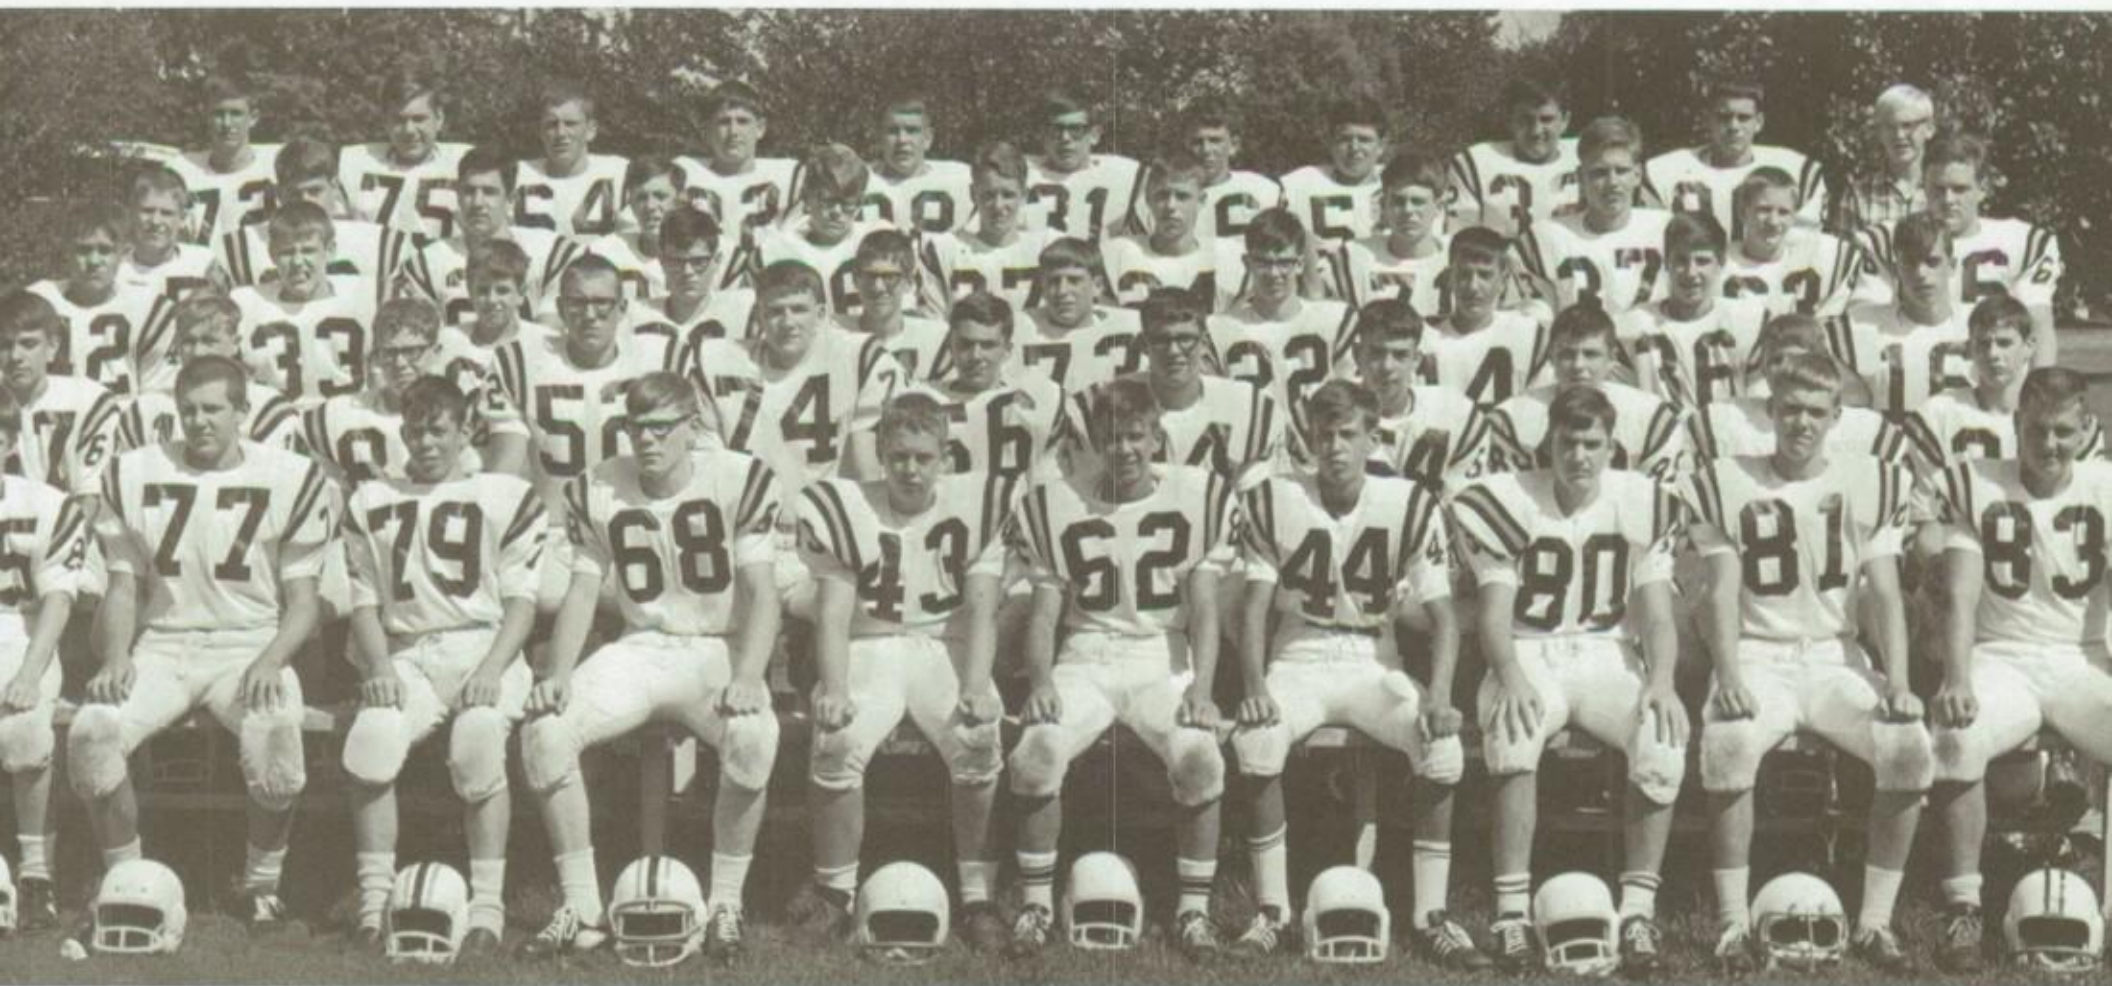

Under Coach Gross and Coach Nutt the 1968 Freshman football team finished their season with an excellent record of six wins, one loss, and one tie. Their only loss came when they were blanked by the powerful Perry team 24-0.

These boys gained valuable experience and should add a great deal to the Reserve and Varsity teams next season.

Coach Barrett put his harriers through many strenuous exercises as well as long runs to prepare for the rugged cross country season.

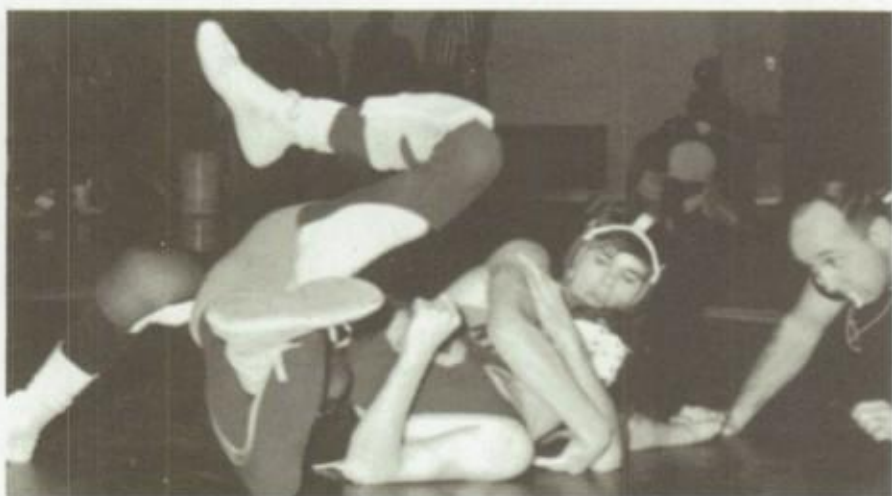

Mr. Barrett's last year as Cross County coach resulted in a season to be proud of. In the Stark County meet North Canton placed third out of eleven teams. In the District meet North Canton placed third. In the women's division, senior Nancy Shafer placed first in the 1½ mile course.

Senior Bill Spencer received his fourth year letter as an outstanding member of the Cross Country team. He was also honored with the Most Valuable Player award at the annual football and Cross Country banquet. Two sophomores, Scott Brown and John White, contributed much to the success of this year's team. Coach Barrett feels that these boys will be responsible for many future victories and honors.

Viking Grapplers Provide Victorious Season

Dickerson tangles with his opponent as he tries to add another pin to the team's score, and his own very outstanding record.

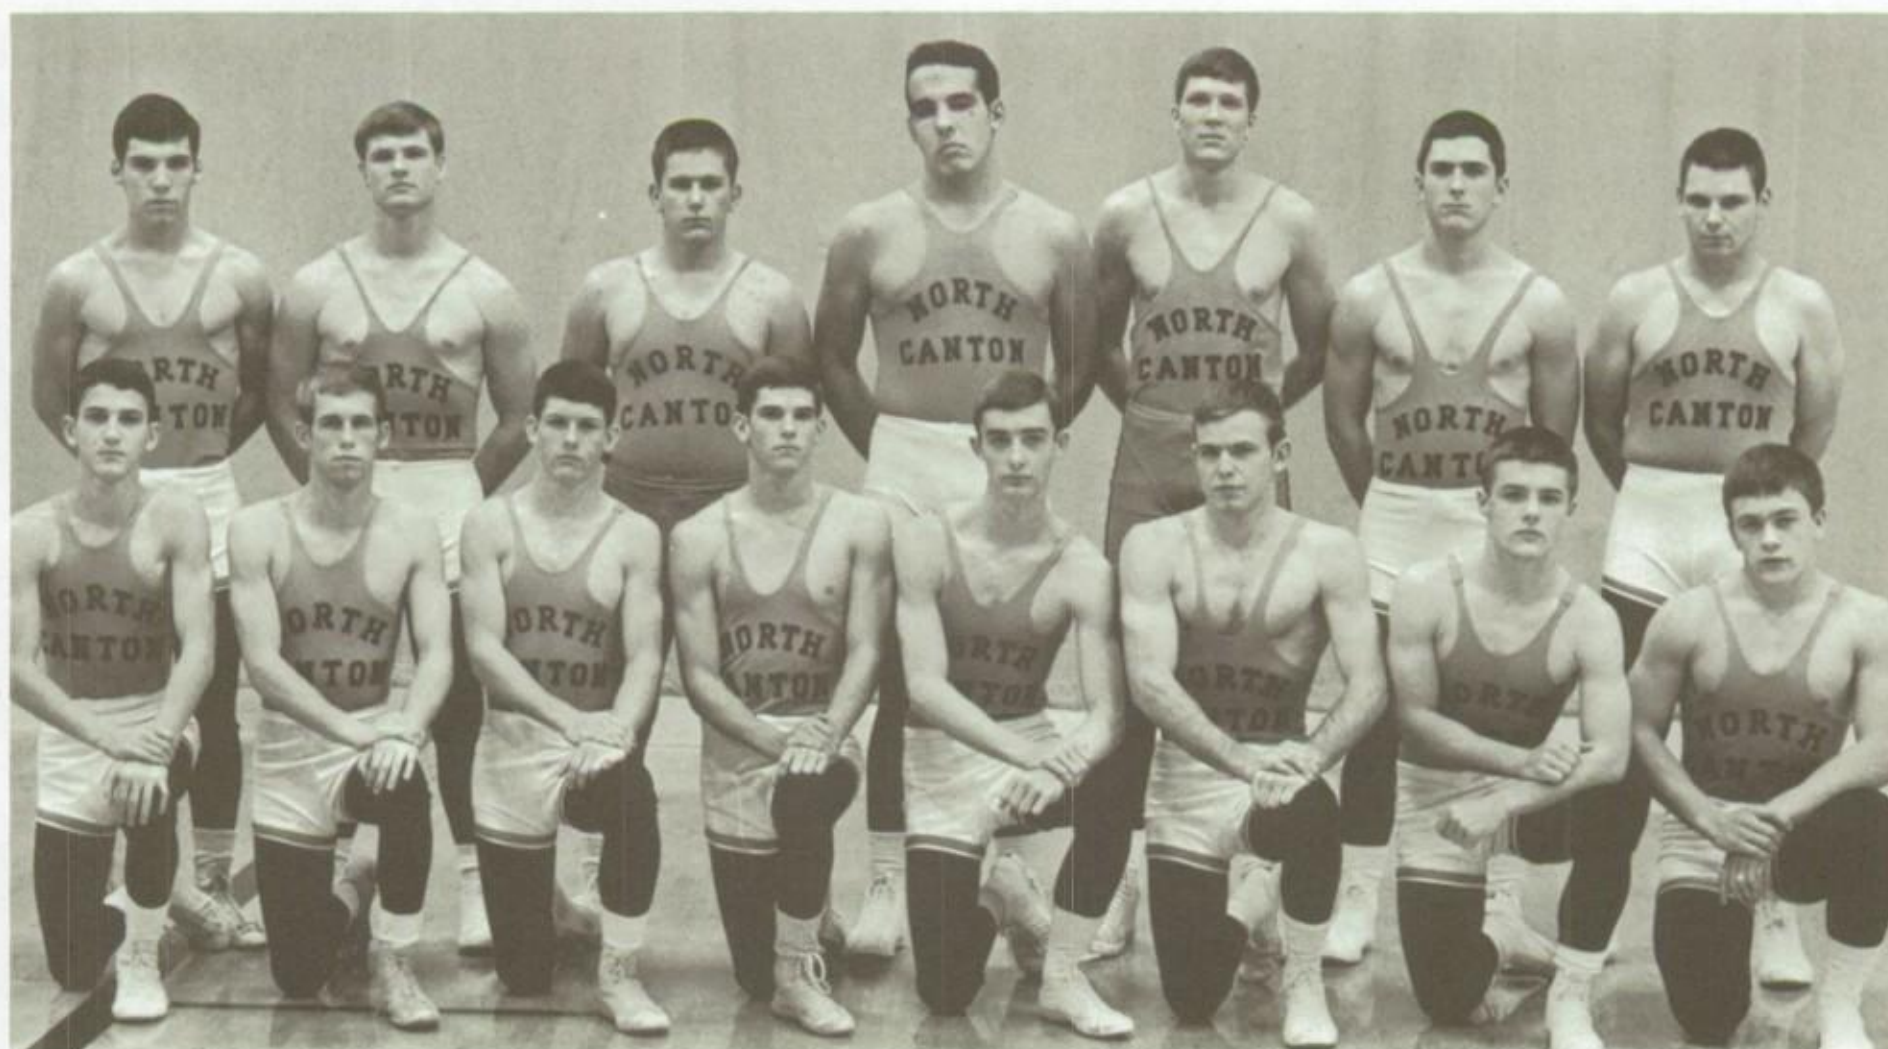

Heavyweight, Tom Skirtech, gains riding time for Hoover as his opponent struggles to free himself from Tom's vise-like grip.

The 1968-69 varsity wrestling team has had a great season this year with only one loss to the Mentor grapplers. In the Christmas Invitational Tournament at North Canton, Hoover placed second. After much hard work on the part of the wrestlers, Massillon fell victim to North Canton at the Massillon Tournament when our wrestlers dominated the matches and took first place. Coach Tolar-chyk was deservedly honored as Coach of the Year by the S.C.C.A.

Matmen Strive to Continue Varsity Record

Grappler John Stoner strives to exert all of his strength in an effort to obtain complete control of his opposing challenger.

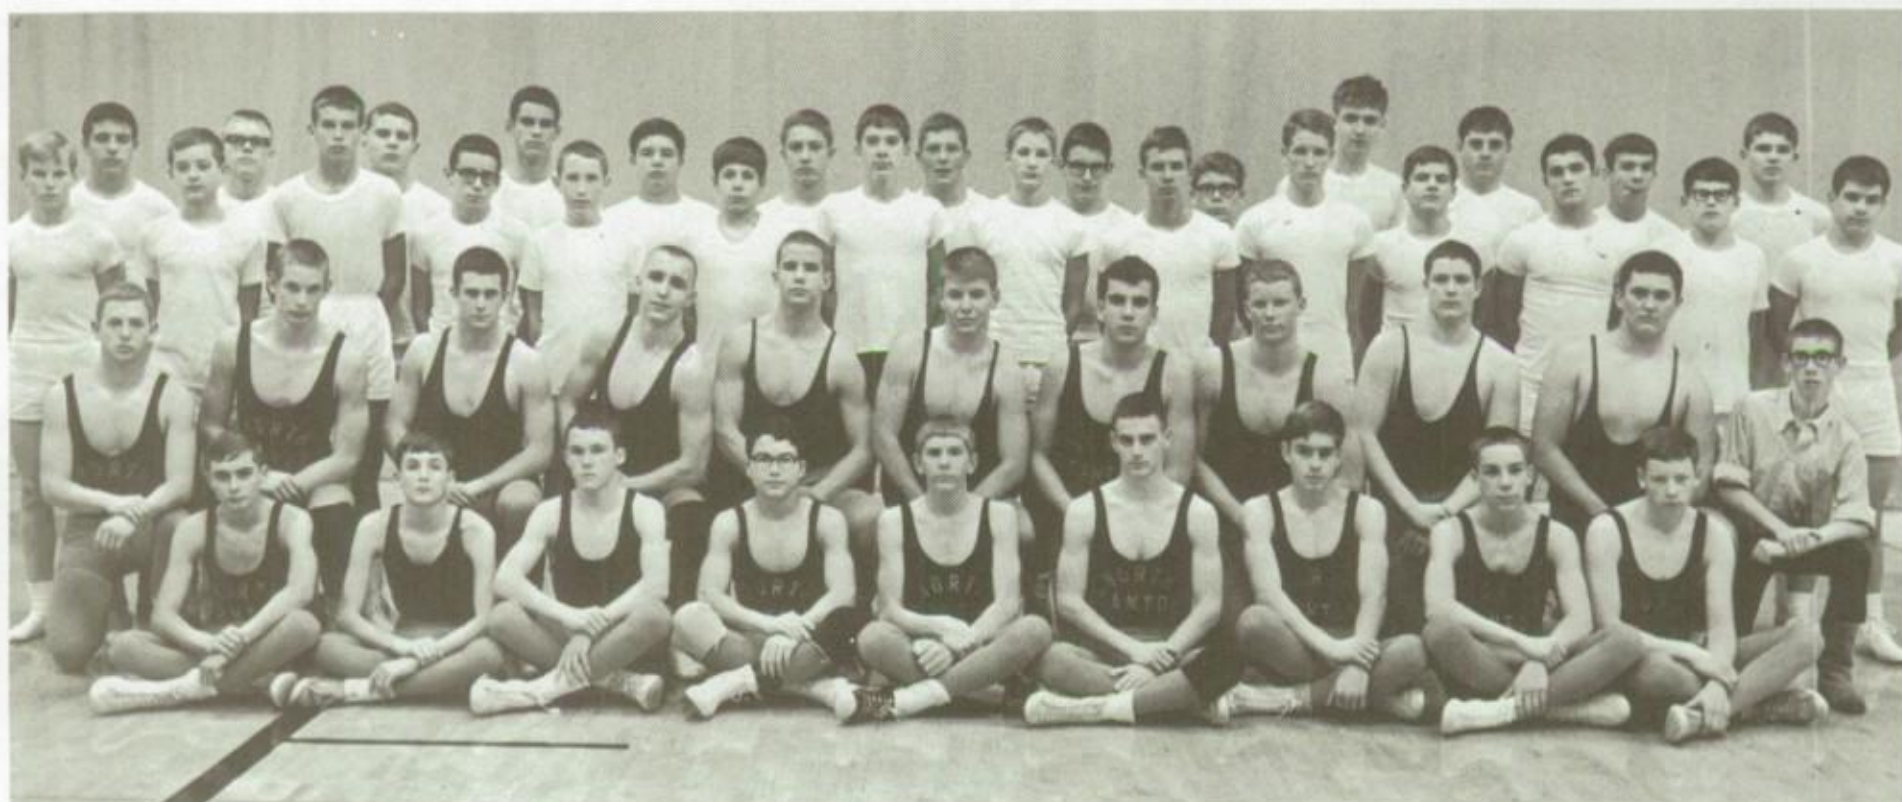

Powerful Bill Spencer skillfully handles his Oakwood opponent as he attempts a take-down to raise his score with two points.

School spirit abounded around the grapplers as fervent fans followed the wrestlers around the state. The Hoover wrestlers ran away with the Sectional and District titles. Pat Dickerson, Greg Brown, and Bill Parker qualified for Columbus and the state competition. Senior Bill Parker was runnerup for the championship in the 145 weight class.

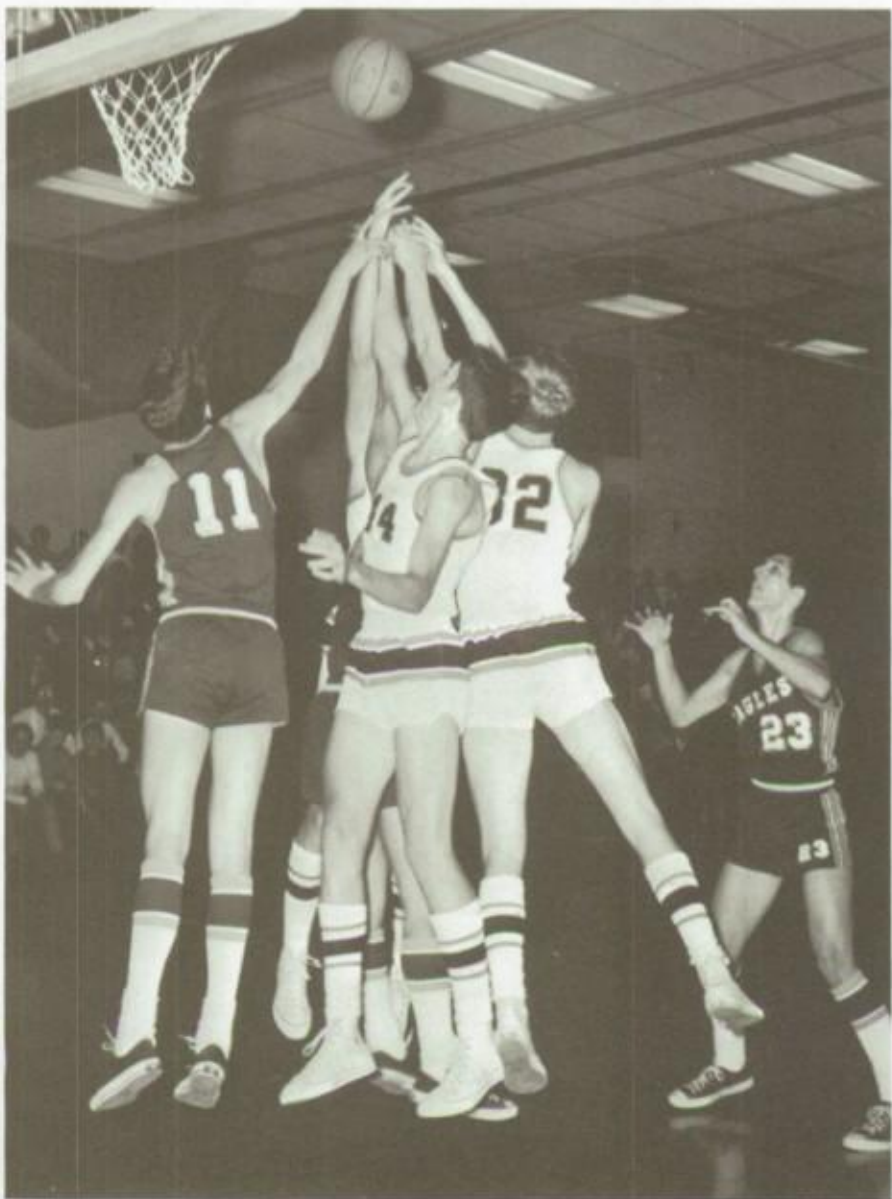

The reserve wrestlers had a terrific season with only one loss under the leadership of Coach Viscount. Several reserve grapplers were given the opportunity to wrestle on the varsity team when sickness overcame some of the varsity wrestlers. The experience gained by the reserve and freshmen wrestlers will be of great value to their success in the future years as Hoover's varsity wrestlers.

Bill Willis and Randy Carlson jump high to get a Hoover rebound to try to push HHS out in front of one of its top competitors.

Although not the tallest player, Senior Dave DeBlander led his team in scoring.

The tension mounts as Scott Freday sinks the ball and tips the score for Hoover while Randy Carlson (44) tries to grab the rebound again.

During this jump-ball against a Glenwood opponent, Bill Willis tries in vain to tip the ball to one of his waiting teammates.

Putting together a new team and breaking in a new coach challenged the success of the 1968-1969 varsity basketball team, but through hard work, desire to win, and the terrific leadership of Coach King, the Vikings overcame this challenge. Dave DeBlander lead the team in scoring and broke the all-time high with 37 points in one game.

If the success of the reserve team is a prediction of our next year's squad—the future looks hopeful. Their 10-8 record was outstanding but has no mention of the two overtime games. Against the Glenwood Eagles, the Vikings went down in a sinking ship after four long overtimes.

The Frosh received much good experience in the competitive aspect of high school basketball. Under the hands of Coach Gross this team tallied a 9-6 record. Much talent was used advantageously throughout the season and will be used further to bolster the future teams. The Freshmen made an unbelievable showing against Jackson by dominating every aspect of the game to win 56-12.

HHS Linksmen Continue As Local Power House

The 1968 Golf team ended their season with a very respectable record of eighteen wins and thirteen losses. Under Coach Wilgus, the team showed fine depth and determination. With two fine returning lettermen in Britt Runion and Dave DeBlander, the prospects for 1969 look very good.

The Viking linksmen were beaten twice by Jackson and Massillion, but they were able to top Lehman, Alliance, Oakwood, and Ravenna twice each. St. Thomas Aquinas tied Hoover $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$, but the Vikings won in sudden death. The Vikings split their series with a strong Glenwood team.

After teeing off, three Viking golfers set off on their long walk around the course.

Golfer Britt Runion worked on perfecting his form.

Golfer Charles Ragazino lifts the flag from the cup as Dave DeBlander helps Britt Runion line up a very important putt.

Dave DeBlander shows that the follow-through is important.

Before the game, Coach Miller provides some members of the team with valuable pointers to use against the strong opposition.

Bruce Talley shows top notch form as he lunges at the ball with a forearm sweep that looks like trouble for his distraught opponent.

The 1968 Hoover High varsity tennis team had a terrific season with a record of thirteen wins and only two losses. Coach Miller felt that Lehman and Akron would be our most threatening opposition. However, these teams felt the strength of Hoover when we accepted their challenges and beat them soundly. Micky Franta was the first freshman to make the varsity team. Dan Dumas, Curt Malthouse, and Bruce Talley have received special recognition for their outstanding skills. Coach Miller will have six lettermen returning in 1969 to lead the team into a successful year.

Dan Dumas stretches to meet the ball to return a lob to his awaiting opponent.

Tennis Players Serve HHS Some Victories

Experience Proves Rewarding For Cindermen

Coach Gross and his Hoover cindermen compiled a very fine seasonal record in 1968 as they finished with a record of seven wins and three defeats. To add to this fine record, the Vikings placed second in the Wooster Relays and hosted the North Canton Invitational in which they placed third.

Several new names were added to the Viking record book as the 1968 team broke several records. The two-mile record, set the year before by Bruce Neuman, was broken on different occasions by Dan Day. Dick Phouts erased the record in the high hurdles, and Tom McDonald leaped to a new record in the long jump. Also gaining a new record was the 880 yard relay team made up of Bill Horning, Dick Phouts, Bob Dewey, and Tom McDonald. One record was tied, as Bruce Hefke equalled the record in the high jump.

Speedy Lester Schwallie leads his Hoover teammates Tim McLinden and Brian Winslow around the quarter-mile track at a fast pace.

Promising quarter-mile star Paul Yoder strains with every muscle to capture another victory for himself and his spirited teammates.

WOOSTER RELAYS

N. CANTON INVITATIONAL MEET

3rd place

Displaying excellent technique in the hurdles, Mike Sweeney aided his team in many victories.

The school two-mile record was broken several times last spring by Dan Day.

In the longer distance races, Bill Spencer showed how endurance and stamina were the keys to many victories.

Adding much to the 1968 track season were track queens Sue Kerman, junior, Julie Baker, freshman, Joanne Gorby, senior, and Lindsay Cullen, sophomore.

Girls Compete In Interscholastic Sports Events

Junior Evie Hubler looks desperately for someone to throw the ball to in a tight situation.

Although little known at Hoover High, the school has a girls' basketball team. The team travels to other schools to play as well as entertaining several schools at home. The high point of the season is the annual Orange-Black Basketball game. This game is played between two teams which are both made up of Hoover girls. The 1968 game ended with the Orange team winning, as they beat the Black team by a score of 24-17. Both teams are coached by Miss Weinman.

Another highlight of the year is the Annual Stark County Track Meet. In the past, Hoover had been able to place no higher than sixth place, but last year they surprised everyone and ended up in second place. Louisville won the meet with 68 points, Hoover second with 59½ points, and Glenwood and McKinley tied for third with 58 points apiece. First places for Hoover were Becky Able in the shot put and Nancy Shafer in the 220 yard dash and the 440 yard dash.

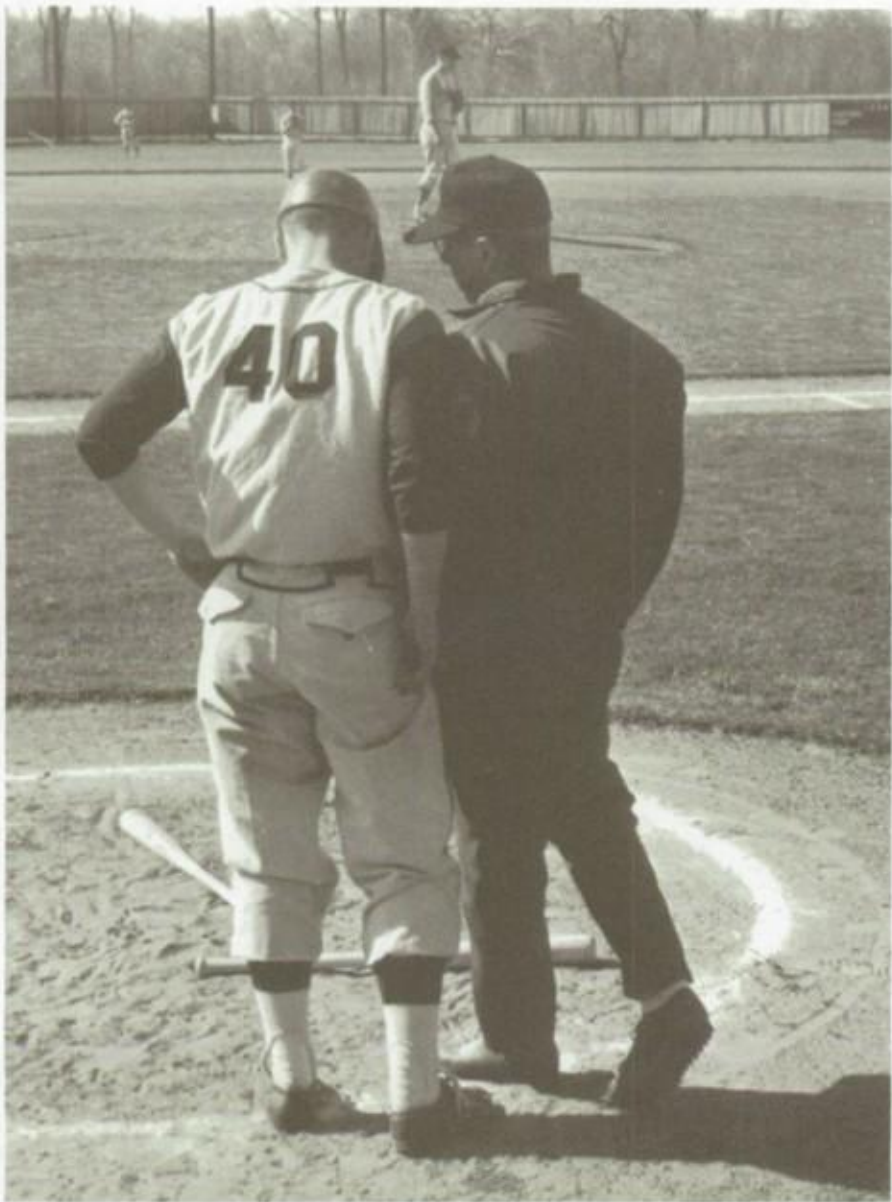

The girls of the Hoover track were very enthusiastic and spirited.

Sue Armstrong attempts to return the volleyball to her waiting opponents.

Head Coach Hertler gives last minute instructions to his batter.

Bill Willis, the Viking first baseman, stretches for a low throw.

Many things can be learned while sitting on the bench and watching the game action.

Baseballers Provide Another HHS Trophy

The Viking Baseball team under Head Coach Hertler compiled an outstanding record of ten wins and five defeats in regular season play. The Vikings finished up their season as runners-up to Canton South in the Sectional Tournament. To reach the finals they had to defeat Marlinton, McKinley, and Perry. In the finals they dropped a very close contest to the Canton South Wildcats by the score of 2-1.

The outlook for the 1969 season looks very good as the team will have twelve returning lettermen. Last year, Dale Wilson led the pitching staff with a very fine record of five wins and one loss. Sheldon Youtz led the Viking hitters with an average of .333 and 23 runs-batted-in.

Cheerleaders Rally the Viking Teams to Victory

Ellen Werstler has many fond memories of Hoover victories.

Junior Gabie Starcher aided in increasing the school spirit.

Margaret Braucher was a staunch supporter of the mighty Vikings.

The only team which exists on a year-round basis is the Hoover Cheerleading Team. This squad takes an active part in football and basketball. A winning season to this team is intangible. Increasing school spirit, urging the teams to victory with posters and pep rallies, and encouraging the teams to have pride in themselves, was the goal of this team. Fulfilling these aims made this 1968-1969 cheerleading squad a victorious team.

Karen Naughtrip returns again to fill her varsity position.

A great asset to the varsity squad and to the overall spirit was Denise Tinlin.

Reserve and Frosh Cheerleaders Lend Support

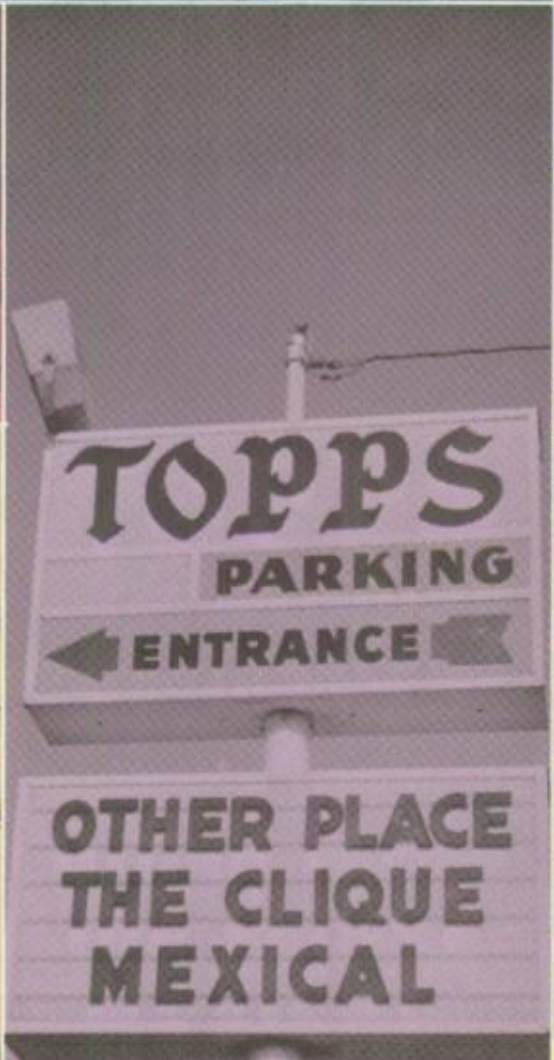

Supporting the Reserve Athletes and backing the Varsity were the Reserve Cheerleaders. This team consisted of Sue Holdren, Kay Douglas, Nancy Zingler, Lindsay Cullen, and Marsha Pratt.

Finishing their first year as Hoover Cheerleaders were the Freshmen: Crystal Losch, Kathy Smiley, Julie Herdlicka, Jody Hill, and Susie Oberlin. These girls were chosen by their classmates and were avid supporters of the Freshman Vikings.

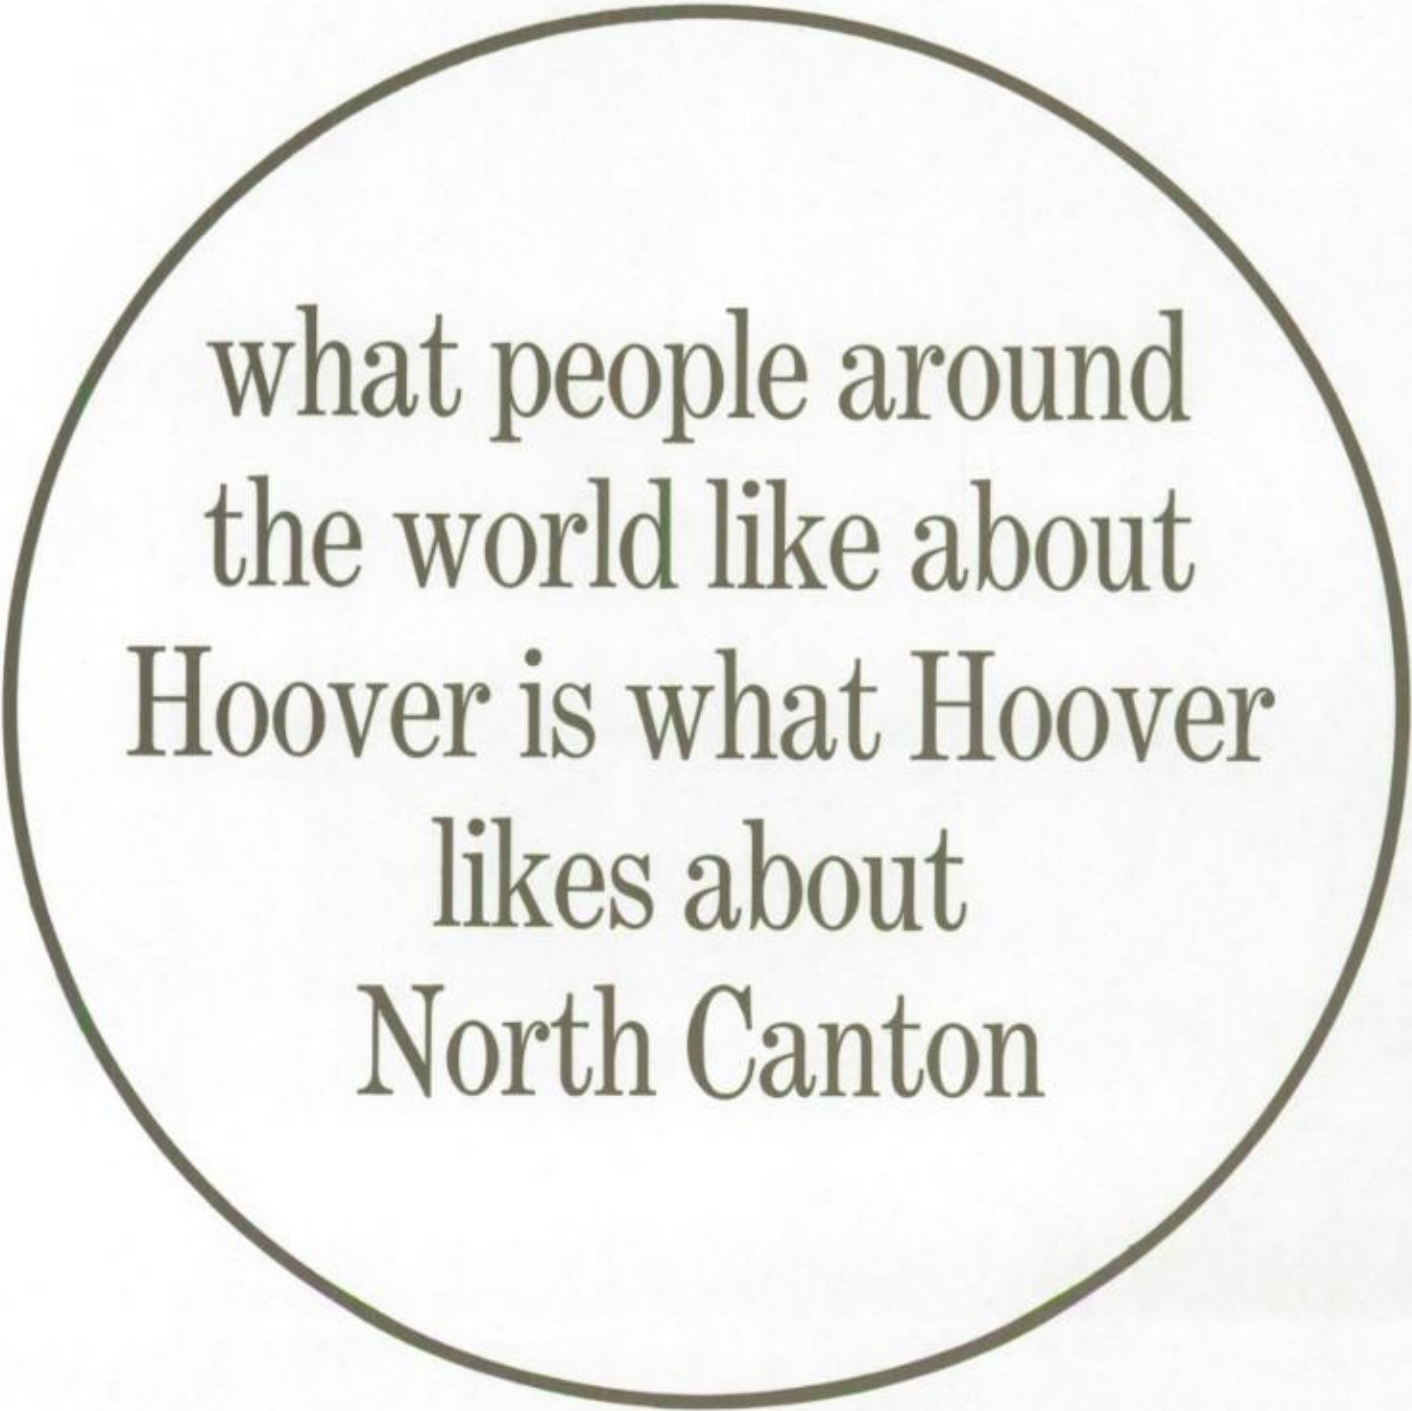

Cheerleaders often have their moments to reflect on the outcome.

Hoover appliances have won a reputation around the world for quality and dependability. In fact, the words 'Hoover' and 'quality' are virtually synonymous.

We long ago discovered that the people of our community embody these same attributes of quality and dependability. Indeed, we're certain that to a large degree, the reason our products are considered so good by our customers is because they reflect the character of the men and women who make them . . . The Hoover Company men and women who have given our company its 'proud past . . . and exciting future'.

Chaos, Havoc, and Confusion Reign Supreme

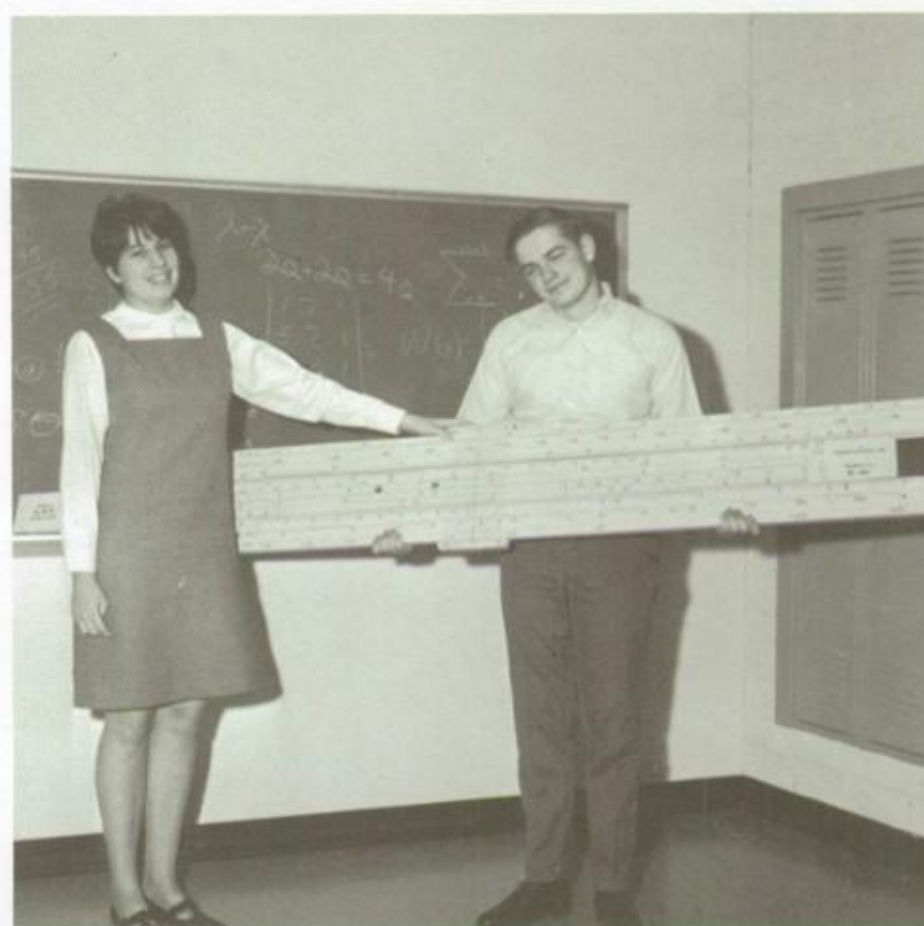

Editor Denise Carabet and the art staff, consisting of Carol Lot-hamer, Mary-ann O'Loughlin, and Julie Gallagher worked together to provide an unusual and (to say the least) interesting cover for the all-new, very extraordinary annual, Viking '69.

Our Fearless Leader, Mr. Walker.

Yearbook planning and execution is a fatiguing, nerve-racking task which proves very costly in time and effort, but is very rewarding at the outcome. This year, like others, we've had our ups and downs while striving to make this book one of which the class of '69 may be proud. In our quest to provide such a yearbook, we've tried to include all aspects of Hoover's life and leisure, spirit and enthusiasm, and learning and diligence.

We, of the annual staff, would like to express our sincerest thanks to the Consolidated Graphic Arts Corporation, Troupe and Pluto Photo Studios, the administration and faculty of Hoover High, and especially to Mr. W. J. Walker for their kindest guidance and cooperation in our struggle with Viking '69.

Sue Nickles and Gary Friend made the most of their higher math abilities to work out the numerous and varied accounts of the annual.

Sports dominated the lives of Denise Crites, Nancy Zingler, Nancy Shafer, and Pat Knisely while on the staff.

Tim McLinden provides a stimulus to help Bruce Fiedorek's imagination along the right lines to provide an unusual and exciting feature section.

Busy, Busy! At least that's what the hard working (?) Heads gals Marcia Currie and Randi Seiferling want the rest of us to think.

Kris Kangas, Karen Brown, Martha Miller, and Nancy Cantini spent hectic hours indexing the annual.

That's right Kermie, grin and bear it! Advertising wasn't at all as hard as you anticipated!

The three exceptionally studious young ladies that headed the academic section are: Barb Smith, Lucy Weber, and Nadine Secunde.

Our funny photographers were (l. to r.) Steve Bozeka, Darryl Revoldt, Terri Sogan, (secretary) and Biff Glidden.

Our devoted Activities editor, Louise Hoover, keeps a wary eye on the workers in her section.

Hoover's activities were covered very closely by Kathy Gibbons, Dave Green, and Jill DuPont.

Come on, Lucy, Cheer up! It can't possibly be as bad as all that!

A lot of work and many headaches later, Sue Dilley, Diane VanValkenberg and Faith Weston finished the music section in the best form.

Lucky Vince Sturiale and his bevy of beauties shared many advertising experiences while on the annual staff. They are: Sue Kerman, Karen Lohr, Martha Geiger, and Vicki Thomas. Colleen Corrigan and Karen Karlo were also members of the ads staff.

Finally The Viking '69 Slowly Evolves to Final Production Form

High-stepping their way to an unusual, unique, and unorthodox classes section were the clowning quintet of: Kathy Kaufman, Debbie Shutts, Karen Hall, Judy Edmondson, and Marianne Koehler.

Cheryl Hartzell, Debbie Greenho, Layne Kegel, and Cindy Hayes comprised the efficient typists.

Nancy Herrington and Cindy Howes "burned the midnight oil" in order to proofread the yearbook.

As the mysterious future reveals itself
So also will the youth reveal himself;
His life, loves, work, fears, and ideals.
